Uptown Business Men Planning for Xmas Celebration

Santa Claus to Come Here As Guest of Uptown Business Men's Association—Parade and Reception Planned—Gifts, Community Tree And Music Considered.

At a well attended and very enthusiastic meeting of the Kingston Uptown Business Men's Association following a chicken dinner in the coffee room of the Governor Clinton Tuesday evening, many plans were made to put zip in the holiday trade. Everybody took part in the discussion, everybody had ideas and everybody was cheerful. The only feature of the evening not cheerful was the resignation of Vice-President Wolfson, who has entered business on Broadway and become a member of the new Broadway Business Men's Association. Many expressions of regret at losing Mr. Wolfson and hopes for his success in his new location were heard. Sam Bernstein, Jr., was elected vice-president to fill the vacancy.

Mr. Fein reported having organized a basketball team to represent the Association that was found to be too good to be admitted to the local league, as it outclassed all of the other teams. It will play as a free lance aggregation, principally out of town, and carry the name and fame of Kingston to far places.

Santa Claus For All.

Charles A. Warren of the Sporting Goods Store started the flow of new ideas by handing out a considerable flock of his own. He suggested a Santa Claus for all, a parade to welcome Santa Claus and the providing of the biggest, fattest, jolliest Santa Claus that ever was.

President Gorman at once expressed entire willingness to turn the Rose & Gorman Santa Claus over to the association, make him an uptown community saint and have him visit all the stores.

On motion of E. F. Flanagan a committee was appointed to arrange details for a grand reception to Santa Claus and on motion of M. H. Herzog it was resolved that prizes of $15, $10 and $5 be offered for the best floats or automobiles in the parade. It was also decided to ask all who brought their children in automobiles to see Santa Claus to join in the procession. Charles A. Warren, G. D. Flemings, M. H. Herzog and B. J. Winne were named as the committee to make things go.

Gifts and Singing.

Another idea was that of having Santa Claus distribute at least a thousand toys to the children who come out to welcome him.

Still another idea was to have a community Christmas tree and later this was expanded to a plan to have choral singing under the tree on one or more evenings. If singers could not be procured, it was suggested that the calliope might be engaged. Sam Bernstein, Jr., G. D. Flemings, Charles A. Warren and Robert J. Harder are the committee to arrange for the Christmas tree and the music, vocal or calliope.

Of course there will be the forest of illuminated Christmas trees lining the streets as they did last year, only the lights in the trees will be bigger and more numerous and there will be more trees.

The big undetermined and most interesting question that will require the greatest work to settle is whether to have vocal or calliope music at the Christmas tree. Why not have both?

GIFFORD CAR STOLEN IN ALBANY SATURDAY.

The new Master Six Buick sedan of Drs. Julian I. and Julius I. Gifford, dentists at 286 Wall street, was stolen in Albany Saturday evening about 6:30 o'clock from in front of the Boulevard Restaurant, State street, where the car had been parked while the doctors were eating lunch. The car, a five passenger 1927 model, had been owned by their brother in New York city and the license number was 6-Y-6286. They purchased the car and on Saturday transferred the license plates to their name. That evening they drove to Albany, arriving about 6:20 o'clock, and stopped at the restaurant for lunch. The car was parked in front of the restaurant and ten minutes later when they came out the car was gone.

The theft was reported to the Albany police and also to the State Troopers who are working on the case. The serial number of the car was 1674736 and the motor number was 1757502. The car had been driven but a few miles and was practically new.

Thanksgiving Day Message Tonight

President Coolidge Will Broadcast Appeal to Observe Thanksgiving—Cold and Dismal Weather Predicted.

Washington, Nov. 23 (AP).—Over the radio hook-up of more than a score of stations, President Coolidge tonight will ask the nation to observe another day of thanksgiving.

He will speak into the microphone from his study in the White House promptly at 8:15, eastern standard time, and it is expected that his voice may be heard throughout the United States and possibly abroad.

It will mark the first time a President ever has been able to reach millions of people in a personal appeal to observe a Thanksgiving Day. Mr. Coolidge will read the text of his Thanksgiving Day proclamation which was issued earlier this month.

In Washington, the holiday will be observed with services in virtually all of the churches, President and Mrs. Coolidge planning to attend special services of the Congregational Church in Keith's Theatre. The President's church recently was razed and services are being held in theatres pending construction of a new edifice.

The weather bureau has predicted cold and dismal weather for the holiday.

Find Errors in Tabulating Vote

Reading, Pa., Nov. 23 (AP).—Many errors in tabulating the vote at the recent election at which the Socialist ticket, headed by Henry J. Stump for mayor, was swept into office, have been revealed through a recheck by the board of ballots in the first precinct of the second ward.

Recount of the precinct was ordered after William Kershner, Democrat, who was defeated for city treasurer by William Hoverton, Socialist, had filed a petition alleging that "fraud and error" had been committed.

When the recount cut Hoverter's lead over Kershner in the precinct from 36 to 28, Judge Paul N. Schaffer ordered that the vote of the entire ward for all offices be re-checked. It was believed in official circles that as a result of the disclosures the vote in the whole city, at least for city treasurer, would be recounted.

Hoverter had announced that he would accept only $6,000 a year salary as city treasurer, which with fees, pays approximately $20,000 annually.

Patrolman Faces Death in Chair

New York, Nov. 23 (AP).—Death in the electric chair loomed before Patrolman "Handsome Dan" Graham, neighborhood idol on his east side beat, after he was found guilty today of killing the construction company paymaster he had been assigned to guard.

A jury in general sessions deliberated nine hours before they returned a verdict of first degree murder against the policeman who was accused of killing Judson H. Pratt on August 26 and robbing a $4,700 payroll. The verdict carries a death sentence. Graham will be sentenced Monday.

The defense offered no testimony in the trial, started October 25, shortly after an application for a lunacy commission to decide on Graham's sanity was denied. Six alienists previously had found him sane.

Doty Will Be Released Soon

Paris, Nov. 23 (AP).—Bennett J. Doty, American, who enlisted in the French Foreign Legion and was court martialed in Syria for desertion during the Druse rebellion, will be released from serving the remainder of his enlistment shortly in response to "American public opinion".

This was announced by the ministry of war, which explained that Doty's release was to please Americans and was in "disregard of all regulations". The order for the release was in compliance with a request of the ministry for foreign affairs.

Routine Matters For Supervisors

Town matters occupied the attention of the members of the Ulster county board of supervisors at its meeting Tuesday evening.

After roll call, Clerk Henry R. DeWitt read a communication from County Treasurer Joel Brink in which he reported that he had paid out for examinations in lunacy cases during the year $790, chargeable as follows: Esopus, $50; Hurley, $20; City of Kingston, $270; Lloyd, $10; New Paltz, $20; Plattekill, $40; Rochester, $40; Rosendale, $40; Saugerties, $140; Shandaken, $20; Shawangunk, $20; Ulster, $30; Wawarsing, $70; county at large, $20. Y., informing the board that it will be necessary to raise the charge of care of inmates from $8 a week to $10 a week, beginning January 1, 1928. The matter was laid over for debate on motion of Supervisor Schantz, who expressed the opinion that the charge of $10 a week for maintenance of children would be too large.

State Asks Cooperation.

The State Charities Aid department at Albany through the state health officer called attention to an amendment in the child welfare law and requested cooperation in caring for families when the husband or father has been an inmate of a tuberculosis hospital; heretofore the law provided only for care of families when the husband had died from tuberculosis. Chicago Wins in Lake Diversion

Report of Charles E. Hughes Favors Chicago in its Fight to Divert Water From Lake Michigan Into Its Draining Canal.

Washington, Nov. 23 (AP).—Chicago today won before Special Master Charles E. Hughes in its fight to divert water from Lake Michigan into its drainage canal.

The former associate justice of the supreme court held that the permit of March 3, 1925, for such diversion "is valid and effective according to its terms. The entire control of the division remaining with congress.

This was one of six conclusions by Mr. Hughes. The others were:

"That the complainants (Wisconsin and other lake states) present a justifiable controversy.

"That the state of Illinois and the sanitary district of Chicago have no authority to make or continue the diversion in question without the consent of the United States.

"That Congress has power to regulate the diversion, that is, to determine whether and to what extent it should be permitted.

"That Congress has not directly authorized the diversion in question.

"That Congress has conferred authority upon the secretary of war to regulate the diversion, provided he acts in reasonable relation to the purpose of his delegated authority and not arbitrarily."

The sixth and final conclusion was:

"That the permit of March 3, 1925 is valid and effective according to its terms, the entire control of the diversion remaining with Congress."

He stressed the great importance of post graduate education for country doctors and the necessity of the formation of a public relations committee, the purpose of which was to correlate the charitable work of the Red Cross, State Charities Aid, Catholic Charities, Junior Aid League, Metropolitan service, etc.

High School Girl Died of "Polio"

Student at High School Taken Ill on November 15 and Died Monday at Her Home in Flatbush—Those in Contact With Her Excluded From School.

Miss Frances F. Swart of Flatbush was taken ill at the Kingston High School, where she was a student, on Tuesday, November 15, and was taken home and a physician called. It was believed at first that she was suffering from an attack of the grip but later it was discovered that she had sustained an attack of infantile paralysis. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Swart and was a very popular young girl. The funeral services were privately held today with the Rev. A. V. S. Wallace of the Flatbush Church officiating. Miss Swart was in her seventeenth year.

As soon as the school authorities ascertained that the girl was attacked with "polio" steps were taken at once to exclude from the high school the other pupils with whom she had come in daily contact, riding back and forth on a bus between school and her home. The pupils who were in contact with the girl will be excluded from school for two weeks.

Governor Smith Talks on Schools

Declares Parochial and Public Schools Alike Teach Love and Devotion to Their Country and Obedience to the Constitution.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 23 (AP).—Both parochial and public schools alike teach love and devotion to their country and obedience to the constitution, Governor Alfred E. Smith, "chief parishioner" of the Roman Catholic Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, said last night in an address at the 75th anniversary celebration of the cathedral.

"In addition to this," said the governor, "the Catholic school teaches the Ten Commandments of God, including love of neighbor, upon which all secular laws are based."

Governor Smith challenged anyone to show him that parochial school teaching conflicts in any way with American principles.

The state, he said, insists upon education for all, and through the State Department of Education, children attending Catholic schools are assured the same secular training as those in the public schools.

Doran and Mason Will Die in Chair

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 23 (AP).—Charles J. Doran, Albany gangster, must die in the electric chair in Sing Sing prison during the week beginning January 2. Doran was convicted of killing Raymond Jackson during a robbery at Jackson's store here in November, 1926.

Louis Mason, convicted of the murder of David Karum, a restaurant proprietor, at Buffalo, July 17, 1926, will go to his death on the same night that Doran walks to the chair. Mason's appeal was also denied by the court yesterday. A co-defendant of Mason, Julius Gibbs, has been convicted of participation in the murder which followed a robbery.

Gray and Mrs. Snyder Must Die Week of January 9

Court of Appeals Judges Sign Death Warrants, Fixing Date of Execution—Italian Who Killed Doctor Following Son's Death, to Renew Fight for Life.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 23 (AP).—The week beginning January 9 was fixed by the court of appeals today for the execution, in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison, of Mrs. Ruth Brown Snyder, Queens Village housewife and mother, and her paramour, Henry Judd Gray, for the murder of Mrs. Snyder's husband, Albert Snyder.

Under the provisions of the penal law, execution must take place not less than four weeks nor more than eight weeks after the court of appeals review. Ordinarily, the court fixes a time midway between the maximum and minimum times.

Clerk William J. Armstrong of the court prepared the death warrants, setting the execution for the week of January 9. These were signed by all the judges of the court and then were forwarded to Sing Sing prison where Mrs. Snyder and Gray are confined in the death house.

Fixing the date of execution followed swiftly after the court's unanimous action yesterday in sustaining the convictions of Mrs. Snyder and her corset salesman companion by the Queens county Supreme court.

The only possible chance for life now left to the convicted pair is executive clemency at the hands of Governor Smith. It is considered a certainty that appeals for commutation of sentence to life imprisonment will be presented to the executive, but the governor, judged by his procedure in the past, will not give the slightest intimation regarding his attitude until after the clemency hearing.

Another Chance for Italian.

New York, Nov. 23 (AP).—As far as the state's highest tribunal is concerned, a woman and her lover, who murdered the woman's husband in an effort to obtain almost $100,000 in insurance money, must die in the electric chair. An illiterate Italian, who killed the physician attending his child, stricken by a fatal attack of diphtheria, has been granted another chance for life by the same court.

Ruth Brown Snyder, blonde housewife and mother of Queens Village, Long Island, and Henry Judd Gray, her corset salesman paramour, will probably be executed the week of January 9 for the murder of Albert Snyder, magazine art editor, her husband, whom they killed in the morning of March 20. Meanwhile, Francesco Caruso, who last February in Brooklyn killed Dr. Casper S. Pendola after the death of his six year old son, will renew his fight for life at a new trial.

Only the executive clemency of Governor Alfred E. Smith, who has usually been guided by unanimous rulings of the court, can save Mrs. Snyder and Gray following the decision of the court of appeals in denying them a new trial.

"An appeal for executive clemency is practically the only hope," former Judge William J. Millard, of Gray's defense counsel, declared.

Has Not Abandoned Hope.

Edgar F. Hazelton of Mrs. Snyder's counsel declared that although the court of appeals decision disposed of the issue of guilt or innocence, "I have not abandoned hope of ultimately saving my client."

The couple who, according to Gray's confession, beat Albert Snyder over the head with a sash weight and strangled him with picture wire, received the news of the decision in contrasting manners in the death house at Sing Sing prison.

Gray, whose mother was visiting him, heard a keeper step up to the wire visitors' cage and pronounced the formal denial of retrial.

The mild-mannered, be-spectacled little salesman gulped: "Thank you! "I'm sorry to hear that," he said.

His mother seemed to shrink from the vision of the strapped chair that confronted her son but she choked back any show of emotion.

Mrs. Snyder who, Gray claims, held him enthralled, moaned and sobbed as she was told of the decision.

Stabbed Physician to Death.

Francesco Caruso, who looked up from the white face of his dead son, Giovanni, into what he regarded as the laughing countenance of Dr. Caspar S. Pendola and stabbed the physician to death, was convicted of first degree murder despite his plea of temporary insanity induced by the doctor's apparently jocular manner of informing him of the child's death.

His defense, financed by a committee, retained Clarence Darrow, noted criminal lawyer, and the court of appeals granted a plea for a new trial based on the claim that Caruso was denied the services of an interpreter in his first trial.

Caruso did not deny the killing of Dr. Pendola. "I go crazy," was his defense when he told how he had stabbed the physician who had administered anti-toxin in a vain final effort to save the child.

Caruso thought the doctor had killed the boy with a poison.

The court of appeals found the evidence in Caruso's case insufficient to justify a first degree murder conviction, although a second degree murder or first degree manslaughter finding might have been just, the opinion declared.

Liberty Bonds Awaiting 17 Men

Walden Man Among Ex-Service Men Who Subscribed to Bonds During War But Never Claimed Them—Men's Whereabouts Unknown.

Seventeen men of New York state who enlisted in the World War have Liberty Bonds awaiting them, together with accrued interest, according to information received from the American Legion News Service of National Headquarters, Indianapolis, Ind. Information regarding the men's whereabouts, or circumstances regarding their disappearance in order that they may be traced through Legion channels, is requested in order that the bonds may be given either to the men or their families if the men are dead.

When successful in finding the men, or their heirs if the men are dead, the Legion will inform the proper government agency in order that the bonds can be delivered. It may be that some of the men are among the unknown dead of the war, in which case it is possible that heirs can claim the money.

There are a total of 186 paid up bonds held by the government for as many men in forty-three states. Each claim represents from $50 to $200 each, and as considerable money is involved, the American Legion considers the service of finding the men or their heirs well worth while.

Delay has resulted in some cases because the inquiry regarding the bonds has been sent to the wrong government department. If sent to the American Legion News Service, National Headquarters, Indianapolis, Ind., the information will be forwarded correctly, or in case it is necessary to further trace clews that may be furnished, this will be done through Legion channels and when successful, then forwarded to the proper government department.

The Liberty Bonds were subscribed for by the service men during the war, and have been lying unclaimed since the termination of hostilities. Proper identification will have to be made to the government by the claimant.

Among men from this particular section of the country, his rank or rating, the outfit he served with, and address given at the time he subscribed for the bonds, is Peter Pool, Cook, Battery F, 29th Field Artillery, Camp Stanley, Texas. Address at enlistment, Walden, New York. Emergency address: Clarence Grover, New York.

Tells History Of Farm Taxes

Slow Rise Before 1920 Helped Farmers—Since Then Assessments Have Been High with Prices Low.

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 23.—During the past forty years farm taxes have been on a continuous up-grade, and during the past 15 years they have more than doubled, according to Professor M. Slade Kendrick, agricultural economist, at the state college of agriculture here. Rising taxes do not necessarily spell financial difficulty for the farmer, although taxes are one of the costs which he must meet. If the spread between prices received for his products and the total of his costs is wide, he may make money even though taxes rise.

Explaining the tax situation during the past few years, Professor Kendrick says, beginning with 1915, farm prices and taxes both rose rapidly but prices rose faster than taxes, so that farmers were in a favorable position for they were paying high taxes by selling still higher products. After 1920, however, the situation was reversed. Farm prices declined but taxes remained high or even continued to rise; high taxes had to be paid with low-priced products.

Then too, other costs which farmers must stand, namely wages and non-agricultural products, which they buy increased slowly from 1916 to 1920 and thus, during this period, taxes were not a serious burden.

Since 1920 taxes, wages, and other costs have remained high while farm prices have remained relatively low. The result is that high taxes have to be paid from incomes which are restricted due to relatively low prices for farm products and to other relatively high costs of production as represented by wages and prices of non-agricultural commodities.

Life actually prolonged!

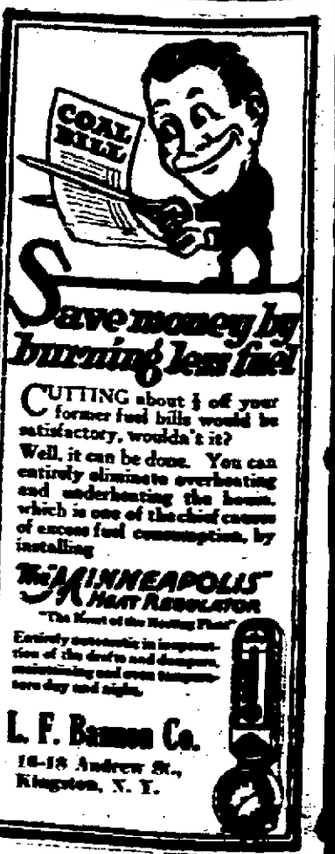
By keeping the system cleansed of poisons

MEN of science are constantly working on a problem vital to the human race—longevity! They find that one of the surest ways to increase your span of life is to keep the intestines cleansed of poisons due to wrong habits of living and eating and to delayed elimination. They find everybody in danger of this condition—everybody suffering from it at times.

Many of our foremost scientists recommend the use of Nujol as a harmless corrective and preventive. For Nujol does both things for you because it has the peculiar quality of not being absorbed by the system at all. But Nujol does absorb body poisons. Carries them away right out of the system. Corrects internal difficulties. If taken faithfully Nujol makes impossible delayed elimination and the absorption of poisons into the blood. Thus it acts as a preventive. Your whole system will benefit if you learn to use Nujol whenever you feel the need of it. Nujol is so safe that babies, old people, and sick people can take it too. Ask your doctor about it. He'll tell you it can't hurt you. It's not habit-forming, contains no drugs or medicine. Perfected by the Chemical Products Division of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey.

Nujol contains no drugs or medicine. It is different from anything else. Absolutely pure and safe to take under any conditions.

You can get Nujol at any druggist. The genuine product comes in the famous Nujol bottle with the label on the back that you can read right through the bottle. Don't delay—get a bottle at once.



CUTTING about ¼ off your former fuel bills would be satisfactory, wouldn't it? Well, it can be done. You can entirely eliminate overheating and underheating the house, which is one of the chief causes of excess fuel consumption, by installing

Ulster Farmers to Inspect Markets

Three Days' Trip Arranged by Ulster County Farm Bureau, So Members Can See Process by Which Products Reach Consumer.

The market of New York city has been called "The World's Maddest and Merriest." It is into this market that the Ulster County Farm Bureau members are going to learn at first hand just how their products are handled and how the products with which they are competing reach the consumer. Only a superficial study can be made at best, but the most is made of every minute from the time the party leaves on the West Shore, Sunday evening, December 11, until they return over the same railroad line on Wednesday evening, December 14.

The program is complete with but a few minor changes. The first day will be spent in the so-called produce markets. A visit will be first made to the Pennsylvania piers where fruits and vegetables from the south and southwest are received. Here would be found in season potatoes from Florida, peaches from Georgia, beans from Virginia and onions and cabbage from Texas.

The Erie piers will also be inspected to see the arrival of fruits and vegetables from the west. Lemons, oranges, grapefruit, and apples will be found in great abundance at this season of the year on these piers.

A visit to a New York Central will furnish opportunity to see the arrival of New York state apples, potatoes and onions.

The party will have an opportunity to attend either the auction of the Pennsylvania or Erie piers of the highly graded and standardized western fruit and vegetables.

The Wallabout market of Brooklyn is of next importance in that the growers get a close-up view of a large jobbing market surrounding a farmer's market.

The Three Days' Program.

The afternoon of the first day will be spent in visiting the New York Stock Exchange and the Dairymen's League Cooperative Association office.

The second day will be largely given to the study of the poultry, egg and milk markets. Both the Atlantic Coast and Pacific Coast egg Producers Association will be visited, together with old line brokers.

One of the most interesting stops on the second night will be a visit to the Lackawanna yards to see the spotting, manipulation, and unloading of the much discussed tank cars.

The third day will be taken up with points of general interest, a packing plant, the United States appraiser's stores, and to an ocean-going liner, provided one is in port. At the appraiser's stores, all commodities coming into the port of New York, from diamonds to sugar, are carefully inspected, appraised and the import duty fixed.

No trip of this kind would be complete without visiting a radio station, so the planners of the program have arranged with station WEAF to be present when the market reports will be broadcast for the day.

THANKSGIVING DAY AT TRINITY LUTHERAN

There will be two services held on Thanksgiving Day morning at Trinity Lutheran Church, Spring and Hone streets, the Rev. William H. Pretzsch, pastor.

The German service will begin at 9 o'clock, and the English service will start at 10:30 o'clock. The pastor will preach on Pslam 65:11: "Thou crownest the year with Thy goodness."

William Pretzsch, Jr., who is at home, spending a few days vacation from Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, will be the organist at both services, relieving the present organist, Miss Elizabeth Liebig, for the day. The offering of the English service will be given as usual to the Industrial Home.

Since the pastor is preaching in German also, which is entirely voluntary on his part, it is hoped that the German speaking members and friends will avail themselves of the opportunity to offer thanks in the language of their preference.

K. H. S. SENIOR DANCE THANKSGIVING NIGHT.

The senior class of Kingston High School will hold its dance Thursday, November 24, in the gymnasium of the school, which will be artistically decorated for the occasion. The present class is depending upon originality to make the dance surpass all previous class dances. Each member of the committee in charge has put forth every effort in planning what is forecast as Kingston High School's major social success of the year. An orchestra will furnish music for the dance to be held from 8 until 11:30 p. m. The rule of the board of education will be enforced, which signifies that only alumni, present students of the school and those who obtain permission from Principal B. C. Van Ingen will be permitted to dance.

Immense Body of Water

The hydrographic office says that the Pacific ocean is approximately 8,300 nautical miles in length. Its greatest width is over 6,000 nautical miles.

Mosquitoes Carry Death

Malaria-bearing mosquitoes are responsible for the deaths of more than 2,000,000 people a year, is the charge made by a European scientist.

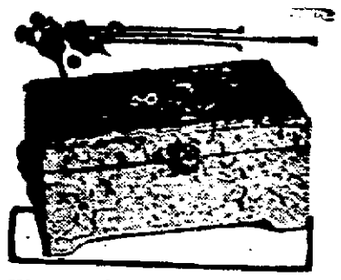
Pretty Things that are Made at Home



THE calendar reminds us that we cannot afford to procrastinate in the matter of Christmas preparation. All the more reason to "do it now" if we are planning to make rather than buy. Speaking of gifts made at home, of all popular presents it would seem that lampshades head the list.

Here's "how to make" a shade which is good looking but not expensive. Buy a plain parchment shade, bind it with gold braid and decorate it with tiny gold paper seals. For a few pennies one can purchase a package of these little stickers or seals—enough to decorate several shades. It is the simplest, quickest process imaginable to paste these seals on the parchment background. After they are firmly placed, shellac the entire shade with transparent amber sealing wax paint. Prepare this by dissolving the sealing wax in denatured alcohol, letting it stand over night. When completed the effect is that of hand decoration done with gold bronze paint. The effectiveness of gilt crescent seals pasted on parchment is portrayed in the little lamp shown in the picture.

A lampshade, also stand or base if you so please to call it, woven of crepe paper rope makes a handsome gift. Weaving with this rope is not difficult as the foundational wires are bent into the desired shape, after which the crepe rope is handled just like in basketry. Materials for making such a lamp and shade may be obtained at any stationery or department store. The open spaces of the shade are filled in with parchment paper. Pictures cut from illustrative crepe paper or from any magazine may be pasted on the parchment. This scissors painting as it is called can scarcely be detected from handpainting. The entire lamp and shade must be gone over with a coat of sealing wax shellac.

The box in the picture portrays sealing-wax craft. A little wooden box prettily shaped may be bought at almost any ten-cent store. Cover the box with daubs of heated bronze-gold sealing wax, allowing it to flow from the end of the stick, leaving the top of the box untouched, as it is to be especially decorated. On this top paste a picture cut from a magazine or else stamp or sketch a flower or modernistic design.

The idea is to work this with various colored sticks of heated sealing wax, building up the design and modeling it with the aid of a thin palette knife. It adds greatly to the handsomeness of this work if one encrusts colorful glass jewels. One can get these multi-colored nailheads at any fancy work department. Use them in the center of the flowers or in connection with the conventional designs if such are chosen.

After the designing on the cover is completed fill in the uncovered spaces with daubs of the gold-bronze sealing wax.

MANY A FURRED VELVET COAT IS A SYMPHONY IN BROWN

IF YOU are feeling the urge to own a velvet coat, then you are fashion-wise. At the thought of a velvet wrap, one is prompted to vision black as the proper thing. To be sure, there is no criticism to be made if such be chosen, for the correctness and prestige of black velvet in the winter mode cannot be questioned. However, there is a competitor in the field—brown velvet for the coat, suit or ensemble, if you please, lavished with fur either in matching or blended fur.

It is a fact there is nothing newer or smarter on fashion's program than a "symphony in brown" for the winter costume. A definitely prominent brown shade this season is chestnut. The elegant afternoon coat of velvet in this picture is in this very beautiful color and it is richly trimmed with matching fur.

In order to insure a perfect blending or matching, furs of every sort are being wondrously dyed this season. In some instances, caracul is toned to accurately match the brown velvet it trims, likewise moleskin. The latter is exceedingly new and effective. Pointed brown furs are the "last word." These, with their sprinkling of white hairs all through the brown, make a handsome and novel appearance.

Arriving from Paris are ensembles with coats three-quarter length. To emphasize their smartness these coats boast the very new stole collars of luxurious brown fur matched to the velvet they trim. Very wide cuffs of the fur are used, because the wider the fur cuff the more fashionable.

Speaking of cuffs, some very sensational things are being done with them. One of the fetching new ideas which draws attention to the cuffs, is that on some of the latest velvet coats the only bit of fur that appears on the coat is that which trims the lower part of the sleeve. Huge muff cuffs are the newest thing. They give the impression sometimes of each arm thrust through a muff which extends up to or beyond the elbow.

Among unique fur cuffs are those strapped in the center with gilded kid belts with gold buckles, or of cloth matching the coat. Of course, these fancy strapped effects are used in connection with flat furs, as they yield most gracefully to this handling.

Regarding the coat in the picture, an outstanding style point which claims attention is that of the flare hemline, achieved by a set-on circular ruffle. Note also that the fur trims only at the front, which is a characteristic feature of many of the season's fur placements.

"When I went to the Arctic", says Commander Byrd, "only four or five women wanted to go, but when I proposed to span the Atlantic 20 women for one man wanted to take the risk." There is a theory that women can stand cold better than men, but on the other hand it is obvious that Paris is more alluring than the North Pole.

Miss Virginia L. Buquo of Boston contends that the triumphant progress of "equal rights" should include the right of a woman to ask a man to marry her, arguing that this would put marriage on a better basis and reduce divorce. However that may be, there is nothing—except a prevailing idea of good taste—to prevent a woman from proposing, and not a few have already done it—indirectly. But Miss Buquo should grant a man's "equal right" to refuse, and not make a point of the special privileges long accorded and still unconsciously claimed even by women hot-footed after "equal rights".

KINDNESS.

An Indianapolis woman did a simple act of thoughtfulness six years ago which has brought her a $50,000 inheritance. She asked a Civil War veteran to ride in her automobile. When he got out again he asked for her card, said she reminded him of his daughter who had died in young womanhood, and that she would hear from him again.

This kind deed becomes news because of its $50,000 aftermath. By itself it would not be news, because the world is so full of thoughtful, kindly persons and pleasantly grateful persons. The financial reward is less common, though even that is not so rare as one might think.

HUNTING CASUALTIES.

The first two days of the rabbit-hunting season in Ohio were marked with two deaths, 16 casualties, a dangerous grass fire that threatened a number of summer cottages, an automobile accident and several arrests. It is taken for granted that every day of the season will have its quota of accidents.

Hunting seasons are always notable for the mistakes of some of the hunters. It is so much a matter of course to read of accidents and tragedies in the woods and fields in hunting season that it has become a subject for the jokesmiths.

Probably the human victims of hunting accidents do not see the joke. Neither do the animals that die to furnish sport for men. There are people to whom hunting with firearms does not seem a wholly civilized pastime. And in this generation it is obviously a blundering pastime.

ALIMONY FOR BOTH.

Alimony for husbands is now a reality. When a Los Angeles woman sued her husband for divorce some time ago, charging cruelty, he came back with a cross-petition alleging that after profiting from his liberality and good business advice, the wife had turned him out in his old age. The family property had somehow gravitated to her, and he had nothing. The judge thereupon gave the divorce to the husband and ordered the wife to pay him $150 a week.

The other day, on the husband's complaint that he wasn't getting his alimony, the wife was haled into court and ordered to make good, on pain of going to jail if she refused. Having no desire to found an "Alimony Club" for women, after the example of a famous institution in New York, she promptly came across with a certified check for the amount due and promised to pay promptly hereafter.

This will cheer the hearts of many men. The time when women could be sure of having their own way in the divorce court is plainly drawing to an end.

THANKFULNESS.

The Thanksgiving editorial has been written a good many times before, but the need and usefulness of thanksgiving are always great, so the editorial has to be written again and again. They were no band of "Pollyanna" who observed the first day of Thanksgiving in the New England colony some three hundred years ago. Their eyes were not closed to the trials and hardships they had endured or those they would have to endure. They knew exactly what things they had to be thankful for—that they were still alive; that they had wrested a living from the soil of the New World; that they had strength to go on with their project.

A good many of us, snatched from the conveniences at every hand, and put suddenly back there with those early colonists, would think our condition almost unbearable and certainly no cause for thanksgiving. Those colonists, suddenly transplanted into our present-day environment, would think we had no cause for discontent, anxiety or pessimism.

But greater than the material advantages and prosperity which we enjoy, as a nation and as individuals, is the ability to feel thankfulness. Honest, cheerful gratitude is a constructive force which stimulates the circulation and stirs up spiritual powers. To the truly thankful comes greater cause for thankfulness. Thanksgiving Day is a vastly more important occasion in our lives than the feast with which we celebrate it.

THE "COMMON COLD."

I am wondering if as sensible human beings we are paying enough attention to what we call "the common cold."

It is true that some of our health writers are certainly doing their duty in warning their readers that the common "cold" is not really a "cold" but an infection of the nose, throat, or bronchial tubes brought on from bad hygienic habits.

As mentioned before, the fact that these colds are as common in California as they are in Canada, should be sufficient proof to us that something besides the weather is the big factor in the causation of colds.

It has been shown by health organizations that the number of days absence from work due to "colds," costs the country millions of dollars yearly.

Dr. V. S. Cheney, says "there is no medical subject which has a greater interest for civilized mankind than the common cold. I say civilized mankind purposely for my experience of many years with the native Indians of the Southwest convinces me that colds, as we know them, are a product of civilization."

Now as almost half the time lost from work in all industries is due to this common cold, it is certainly true that this saying "Oh it's only a little cold" should be changed to "something is irritating my upper air passages, and I must try and find out what is causing it, before it takes too much out of me, and leaves me in a condition to get another in a short time."

Naturally it has always been thought that a cold was an infection that could be passed from one member of the family to the others. But Dr. Cheney tells us that more colds are found on holidays and days following holidays, and also days following banquets or parties, where there is an abundance of good things to eat including too much meat, than at other times.

Therefore an acute cold is likely due to eating too much acid food, meats, eggs and cereals, thus lowering the alkaline reserve in the blood.

This means that colds can be prevented by cutting down on the acid foods and taking some alkali, such as baking soda.

When a cold has started, omitting a meal, and cleansing intestine, and taking a little baking soda, is logical treatment.

And why are there more colds in cold weather than in warm weather? Because we eat more, stay indoors more, and exercise less in cold weather.

It is then the same old story, a little daily exercise will prevent most of these colds, because it will take care of the extra food eaten.

FOUR OPERATIONS WITHIN FOUR HOURS FOR ONE MAN

Watertown, N. Y., Nov. 23, (AP).—Four surgical operations within as many hours constituted the treatment meted out to Carl G. Nill, prominent business man of this city, when he went to the city hospital last week thinking he would go under the knife but once.

An operation had been recommended to correct an injury to the knee and an incision was made at the front of the knee without disclosing the trouble. Another cut on the back of the knee revealed the cause of lameness, a piece of cartilage caught in the knee joint.

While the surgeons were examining Mr. Nill it was found he was suffering from appendicitis. The appendix was removed and during that operation abdominal conditions were discovered which necessitated a fourth operation. All were performed within less than four hours.

Spend Millions to Beautify Ottawa

Dominion Government Remodelling Central Park of Canadian Capital —New Parks, Plazas and Government Buildings Part of Program.

Ottawa, Nov. 23, (AP).—The city of Ottawa is assuming a new aspect. The Dominion Government is taking definite steps toward remodelling of the central parts of the city, and the next few years will find the capital of Canada wearing new urban dignities. Entire city blocks have been expropriated, new parks and plazas created and imposing government buildings projected as part of the immediate program.

Sir Wilfred Laurier, as Prime Minister, created the Ottawa Improvement Commission thirty years ago with a view to preserving the natural beauties of the city. That body spent nearly $3,500,000 before its work concluded early this year. A new organization, the Federal District Commission, has taken its place with enlarged powers and increased funds to expend. The first Commission devoted itself mostly to the creation of parks and driveways throughout the city and it now controls ten parks, six driveways, seven bridges as well as greenhouses and playgrounds. The Commission created this year has given most of its attention so far to the centre of the city where the business buildings were threatening to congest the approaches to Parliament Hill, the very heart of Canada's government.

Huge City Square.

Connaught Place, the central plaza on which faces the Union Station, the Chauteau Laurier Hotel and the Post Office, is being extended several hundred feet westward by tearing down almost an entire city block. The result will be that Ottawa will have one of the great city squares of the world, almost at the foot of Parliament Hill. The city Post Office is to be allowed to stand until it outlives its present usefulness and it will occupy a rather isolated position in the open square. Eventually, it too, will go, and a wide sweeping vista of the city as well as the sky line of the Laurentian Mountains will present itself to visitors arriving in the Capital.

The century old Rideau Canal bisects the city. The old Improvement Commission created several miles of driveway and parks along its banks, but these improvements stopped short when the waterway slipped into the business section of the city and later joined the Ottawa river. The driveway will be extended right up to the Connaught Place plaza, making an artery by which motor cars can come into the downtown section of the city without meeting an important cross street.

Driveway to Parliament Hill.

The most recent announcement in connection with these plans involves the expropriation and tearing down of an old hotel on Sparks street, the main thoroughfare of the city. This, also, will have the effect of making a combined park and driveway approach to the seat of the government on Parliament Hill. The Federal District Commission naturally does not disclose all its plans, but its activities of the past three months have given some indication of the vast undertaking.

The Parliament buildings occupy a site on a cliff high above the Ottawa river. The land along the river, sloping away on each side from the eminence of Parliament Hill, is owned by the government. New government buildings, interspersed with park areas will be built there. Already the final plans are being drawn up for a great building, as large as a city block, with towers embodying the French Chateau style of architecture and the work is to commence early in 1928.

The cumulative effect of these changes already announced will be practically the re-creation of a city. Over a period of thirty years Ottawa was allowed to grow practically unrestricted but the future is now definitely platted out and a capital not only in name but in appearance is destined to emerge within this generation.

CENTENARIAN WITNESSED BATTLE OF THE WINDMILL

Watertown, N. Y., Nov 23, (AP).—The death last week of Mrs. Maria Gertrude Knapp, at the age of 102 years, occurred on the 89th anniversary of the Battle of the Windmill, of the "Patriot War" at Prescott, Ont. As a little girl Mrs. Knapp witnessed the conflict. It is believed she was one of the last survivors who could give personal recollections of the famous Prescott fight.

She was eleven years old when bands of "Patriots" swept into Canada, determined to free the country from British dominion. Her father was head of one of the companies of Canadian volunteers who repelled the invaders. On the memorable November 16, 1838, she saw the Canadian militia clash with the Americans and heard the rifle and artillery fire. Then she ran and hid in a big grandfather's clock, remaining there until the end of the battle, when the attackers were either driven off or made prisoners.

A brother of Mrs. Knapp, Michael Ahearn, for 63 years associated with the Chicago Tribune, was the author of the famous story of Mrs. O'Leary's cow, popularly supposed to have caused the great Chicago conflagration by kicking over a lantern. He died recently at an advanced age.

3 STUDEBAKER COMMANDERS
THE WORLD'S CHAMPION CAR
Nothing made by man in the history of the world has ever traveled so far so fast—25,000 miles in less than 23,000 minutes
Read the facts below

TO THE PUBLIC:

South Bend, Indiana, November 10th, 1927

On October 18th at 2:49 p. m.; two strictly stock Studebaker Commander Sport Roadsters, and a strictly stock Commander Sedan, started at the Atlantic City Speedway (one and one-half mile board track) to run continuously for 25,000 miles and thereby, if successful, to establish a new world record for endurance, and also, if possible, to average better than a mile a minute and thus break all existing speed records not already held by Studebaker cars. These were the objectives sought by Studebaker.

This run was sanctioned and supervised by the American Automobile Association, which stationed a squad of 35 men on the job in charge of Val Haresnape, Secretary of the Contest Board of the Association. These men kept all of the records by means of the most accurate electrical time recording instruments and tape which registered every lap (16,667 laps) as each car passed over a wire stretched across the track immediately in front of the judges' stand, which was occupied by four A. A. A. men at all times—day and night.

In addition, at least two members of the A. A. A. Technical Committee kept an accurate record of all gas, oil and water replenishments, together with parts replacements and work done on the cars.

The sole duty of the Studebaker drivers and pit men was to keep the cars on the track and the average speed above a mile a minute. They had nothing to do with the recording of distance or speed.

The Official Results of the tests as duly certified by the American Automobile Association were as follows:

Both roadsters finished 25,000 miles on November 3rd at 1:37 p. m., which made the total elapsed time 15 days, 22 hours and 48 minutes, or 22,968 minutes, and the average speed 65.31 miles per hour for the entire distance.

The Sedan finished 25,000 miles on November 4th at 10:09 a. m., which made the total elapsed time 16 days, 19 hours and 20 minutes, or 24,200 minutes, and the average speed 61.98 miles per hour for the entire distance.

These are world records for distance covered and average speed. No machine made by man in the history of the world, be it airplane, automobile, steam engine, or ship, has even approached the performance of these Studebaker cars.

An accurate record of all repairs and replacements was kept on the three cars. At Studebaker's retail prices for parts, the total cost of all mechanical repairs and replacements (including labor) on the two Roadsters was $207.88 or 41 hundredths of a cent per mile for the 50,000 miles traveled.

The Sedan turned over during the night of November 2nd with a mileage of 21,390 miles to its credit, while going at the rate of 65 miles per hour. It was necessary to replace radiator, wheels, headlights and front axle, but the car was back on the track again in one hour and fifty-seven minutes and completed the 25,000 miles with an average speed of 61.98 miles per hour. The repair cost was, of course, made abnormally heavy on the Sedan by this wreck—totaling $408.34 or one and sixty-three hundredths cents per mile.

Competitive engineering and proving ground tests, plus analytical examinations of a hundred cars made during the past year, had convinced the men who make Studebaker cars, that they are superior in performance, endurance, and value to any other cars on the American market today.

Realizing the futility of superlative claims, so prevalent in automobile advertising, Studebaker determined seven months ago to go after all existing performance records held by stock automobiles and to submit the results to the public as official facts certified to by the highest American authority, namely the American Automobile Association.

President, The Studebaker Corporation of America

Area Rally Day For Methodists

Elaborate Program Arranged for Big Meeting at Brooklyn Next Week—Bishop Wilson to Preside.

Dr. George Benton Smith, of 40 Franklin street, Kingston, superintendent of the Kingston District of the New York Conference, Methodist Episcopal Church, is a member of the committee of arrangements for the "Area Rally Day" to be held in the Central Methodist Episcopal Church, Brooklyn, on Tuesday, November 29. This gathering, which will be attended by pastors and prominent laymen from all Methodist Churches in Kingston and surrounding communities, will include some 2,000 representatives of the five conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church presided over by Bishop Luther B. Wilson of New York city. The gathering will have more than ordinary interest because it will probably be the last time that these pastors and laymen will meet together under Bishop Wilson's presidency since he retires from the active ministry in May, 1928.

The gathering will open at 10 o'clock with devotional services conducted by Dr. Charles T. Craig, pastor of Simpson Methodist Episcopal Church, Brooklyn, and will be followed by a program including addresses on "Our Duty in the Prohibition Situation," by Dr. O. F. Bartholos of Mt. Vernon; "Our Responsibility for International Good Will," by Dr. Harry Holmes, secretary of the committee for the promotion of international friendship through the churches; and "The New Challenge of Foreign Missions," by Dr. Ralph E. Diffendorfer, corresponding secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions.

The afternoon program will contain a number of addresses especially related to Methodism in the New York Area. These will include "Our Attitude Toward Christian Unity," by Frank A. Horne, of Brooklyn, a delegate to the recent "World Conference on Faith and Order" at Lausanne, Switzerland; "The Need of More Connectionalism in New York Methodism," by William H. Van Benschoten, a well-known Manhattan attorney; "The General Conference Forecast by an Editor's Correspondence," by Dr. James R. Joy; and an address by Bishop Wilson.

At the evening session Dr. S. M. Shoemaker, rector of Calvary Protestant Episcopal Church of New York, will speak on "Experience With the Evangel," and Dr. Charles L. Goodell, superintendent of the Department of Evangelism of Federal Council of Churches of Christ, on "The Evangelistic Passion."

Among the district superintendents of the New York Area who are in charge of plans for the meeting, are: Dr. George B. Tompkins, of Hempstead, Long Island; Dr. John W. Langdale, of Brooklyn; Dr. Hough Houston of Manhattan; Dr. Frank E. Broman, of Brooklyn; Dr. Feodor Hagner of Manhattan and Dr. Hermann Giesen of Brooklyn.

Y. W. C. A. CANDLE LIGHTING AT FIRST DUTCH VESPERS

A very interesting vesper service will be held at the First Dutch Church at four o'clock on Sunday, December 4, by the members of the Y. W. C. A. This service is open to the public and in a most beautiful and inspiring manner sets forth the purpose of the association. The lighted candle is used throughout as the symbol of the association spirit and this light is passed to the various persons representing the purpose and the groups of membership in the Y. W. C. A.; and in turn to each individual member. The lighting of the tapers is a very impressive ceremonial in itself. The music will be in charge of the Schubert Choral Club, Miss Virginia Los Kamp, director. The public is cordially invited to be present.

John Arthur's Game Leg

By EDGAR T. MONFORT

(Copyright)

JOHN ARTHUR was so sensitive about his limp. Yet it was such an honorable limp so honorably won. Injured in the leg during the war, somehow the operation to repair the accident had not been entirely successful and for a long time he had used crutches—at last he had learned to get along with a stick, and for awhile had hoped eventually to abandon even that, but as the years passed he realized that it would never be. He was doomed to hobble through life.

He was walking down the street one day when he dropped the magazine he was carrying under his arm and with a stiff knee stooping down was next to impossible, so he had to stand beside his prostrate magazine, ignominiously sprawling on the sidewalk, and wait for a kind passerby to hand it to him.

Florence Evans, walking jauntily along the street in her little blue flannel dress with the blue felt hat to match, saw the mishap from a distance and hurried to restore the book to its owner.

"Thank you," he said, embarrassed as he always was under these circumstances. "Got a game knee and stooping's too much of a stunt for me." He tried to laugh it off.

"I think you're game!" she came back at him, "to speak of it so lightly."

Then by the flush of his dark, handsome face she knew that she had said the wrong thing. She put a timid hand on his coat sleeve.

"I mean, I mean—it isn't bad. Nobody notices it, I mean—but I'm sorry."

She said it so wistfully as she walked along beside him that it made his heart jump, and he cursed his lameness the more.

"My name's John Arthur," he said after a moment, "if I may introduce myself."

"Not the Pennington's John Arthur! Why, everybody in that family simply adores you! They've written me such reams about you!"

"And I'm willing to bet you're Miss Peggy Hampton—just back from Europe where you went to acquire knowledge."

"Exactly that!" she laughed. "Why, we know each other already, don't we?"

"I should say so! I should have recognized you from their description, but I just wasn't expecting to see you at this moment. I thought you weren't due in until next week."

"Yes, but I was exempt from final exams because I was good. So I came over early, and when mother and dad saw me they couldn't believe their eyes."

She was a charming little trick, he thought, trotting along by his side—so amazingly small beside his huge frame that it made her look like a very animated doll. They parted at the next street corner and Arthur stood with bared head.

"Of course, I don't think that I could—cut anyone out—or anything like that," he stammered. "Just friends—but if I might call once in awhile . . . ?"

"I just wish you'd call twice in awhile," she smiled warmly. "It would be fun."

And that evening after Peggy went to bed she kept wondering and wondering when he would come. He was so delightful and so good-looking—and even the limp somehow made him more attractive to her. She pitied him and wanted to mother him.

From the very first visit they got along famously together. Knowing many of the same people, loving the same authors, they had no difficulty in finding things to talk about. They would spend the long lazy summer afternoons together "buddying" as they called it, reading a book or just idling the time away.

It was toward the end of summer. He was leaning against a tree with his legs stretched out in front of him, the book they had just been reading tossed face down on the grass, the smart roadster parked at the side of the pike.

"I'd give ten years of my life not to have this," he said tapping his leg with his cane.

"Oh, but Jack," she protested, slipping her hand in his, "I might never have met you if it hadn't been for—that and the magazine."

"I wish to heaven we hadn't met!" he said at last between stiff lips—and Peggy, affronted, fell back.

"Oh, well, if you feel that way," she said coolly.

"Oh, Peggy, my Lord, you don't know I'm wild about you. But a fellow in my fix can't—"

And Peggy, all smiles and warmth in a second, her face alight with happiness, did a most unmaidenly thing. She crept up into his arms and drew them about her.

"Maybe you don't know how to propose," she said mischievously a moment later, "but I do—and sometimes, if a girl wants a man it's her only chance of getting him."

"Oh, Peggy," he said, his voice husky with feeling, "Peggy, do you really believe you could stand it?"

"Stand it?" she scoffed. "Why somehow I don't know how to put it into words, but— it just seems to make me love you more."

"Well, hanged if I don't love my old game leg after that!" he laughed, "and after all it was what brought us together."

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Reception Tuesday night was strong and, after the buzzer wearied and quit, very good. At 10:45 there was an outbreak of what seemed to be code interference. All points of the compass seemed equally strong, with WCBD the star DX performer. The favorite song of the evening, heard at various times from various stations, was "Oh, My Operation." It is very affecting.

Several special selections will feature the Willys-Knight Whippet hour of entertainment over Station WABC on Thanksgiving evening from 8 to 9. By popular request the Willys-Knight ensemble will render a group of old favorites, including selections from Victor Herbert's "The Chocolate Soldier" and "Semper Fidelis" by Sousa. The Willys-Knight Trio, composed of Harry Salter, Clyde Doerr and Milton Rettenberg, will again be heard in a special arrangement of "Just a Little Love, a Little Kiss."

Two famous European artists will present the Atwater Kent Hour, Sunday night—Editha Fleischer, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and Alexander Brailowsky, concert pianist. Old English melodies predominate Miss Fleischer's program, in keeping with the recent revival of interest in old English madrigals, art songs and folk melodies. These will include the 16th Century lullaby, "Golden Slumbers;" the hunting song, "When Dull Care;" the popular love lyric, "The Sweet Girl That I Love," and others.

John Charles Thomas, internationally famous baritone, heads the group of musical notables to be heard at 9:30 on Monday evening, November 28, in another gala "Family Party" by General Motors, to be broadcast through twenty-seven stations, including WEAF and WGY, from the music chamber of Carnegie Hall, in New York city. More than one hundred artists will participate, with the veteran favorites, Weber and Fields, acting as masters of ceremonies. The special symphony orchestra of forty picked musicians will be conducted by Fritz Busch, leader of the New York Symphony Orchestra and former director of the Dresden Opera Company. Weber and Fields will "do their stuff" in their popular, old-time manner, in the second, or radio revue division of the hour, assisted by Joe Green's marimba band. The closing period will be devoted to popular music by Goldman's band.

Be Thankful For Your Health

Material Blessings Are Dwarfed Beside Those of Health, Says Health Officer—Ample Reasons for True Thanksgiving.

Appropriate to the season was the health talk broadcast one night recently from Station WGY by Dr. William L. Munson, district state health officer. He says that we should count our health blessings and we will find ample reason for a true Thanksgiving.

"Many people", said Dr. Munson, "when they think of Thanksgiving, think in terms of material blessings—money, lands and prosperity. But there are things of much more value in our lives. There are blessings that dwarf beyond all comparison the things we can see and own. There are blessings that should make us happy, and put us in a true spirit of Thanksgiving.

"If you have the priceless thing—health—you have all the reason in the world to be thankful. Health usually is not appreciated until it is gone. Some persons look upon it as something that God gives and about which we, as individuals, have nothing to say. This is a mistaken notion. While it is splendid to have naturelessness with good physique, the care and protection of this gift is our own responsibility.

"The aim of the medical profession is not only to cure but also to prevent disease—to reduce to the lowest terms the amount of suffering due to illness. If you have a good family doctor to whom you can turn for sound advice and for examinations in health and for scientific treatment in illness, you have ample reason for sincerity in your Thanksgiving.

Some Causes for Thanks.

"More than one hundred years ago Jenner gave us a reason for thanks when he found that vaccination prevented smallpox. You and yours may now be alive and with an unblemished skin because of this. Isn't this truly a cause for your devotion?

"You are able to make it impossible for your children to have diphtheria by having your doctor give toxin-antitoxin. Surely this is much more reason for happiness and Thanksgiving than the possession of fine gold or much land.

"The results coming from research laboratories where the health destinies of man are being worked out are wonderful—sometimes wonderful beyond the power of understanding. All of you are the beneficiaries. You profit by the work of Pasteur in preventing rabies and in the saving of baby lives by pasteurized milk; Lister was your benefactor because he made possible modern surgery by showing the value of cleanliness; Koch made you his debtor by discovering the cause of tuberculosis. These, and many more were beacon lights in the modern era of medicine. We have a right to be thankful that they lived.

Germs Are Common Enemy.

"No army can operate efficiently without information of the movements of the enemy. In the same way our common enemies, the germs of communicable diseases cannot be overcome without full knowledge of their activities. In this state the system for control of disease is so complete that rarely do the diseases about which we have exact knowledge become epidemic, and the numbers of their victims are constantly being reduced.

"Count your many blessings—count them one by one and you will find there are ample reasons for a true Thanksgiving."

WOMEN ATTEND "LIVE A LITTLE LONGER" CLASSES

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 23, (AP).—Three hundred and fifteen Rochester women are attending "Live a Little Longer" classes promoted by the local Chamber of Commerce and the board of education.

The course of 12 lessons, which includes instructions regarding diet, nutrition, care of infants and methods of preventing communicable diseases, is believed to be the only one of its kind in the country.

The plan was conceived 15 years ago by Miss Melissa Ringeman, an employee of the chamber.

The board of education provides physicians and registered nurses as instructors and meeting places for the groups, and the Chamber of Commerce is responsible for attendance.

FIND ANOTHER LEAK IN CATSKILL WATER SYSTEM

The officials examining the Catskill water system found a second leak recently which wasted approximately 35,000 gallons of water every 24 hours. There was no apparent break in the system on the surface. So far leaks in the system have been discovered that aggregated the loss of 255,000 gallons in 24 hours. It is thought more smaller leaks will be found before the investigation instigated by Superintendent J. Chester Beare, is completed.

Chicken Pie Supper.

The Ladies' Aid Society and the Sewing Circle of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer will hold a chicken pie supper and bazaar on December 6 in the Sunday school rooms. Supper will be served from five to eight o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

OFFICE CAT

By Junius

The landlord was asking the prospective tenant a few questions.

"Of course, you have no children?"

"No, sir."

"Any dogs or cats?"

"No, sir."

"Piano, phonograph or pianola?"

"No, sir; I have no musical instrument, though I should explain that my fountain pen squeaks rather badly, but I am willing to get rid of that if you say so."

'Tis not the feast so richly spread,
'Tis not the word we say.
'Tis not the greeting and the song
That makes Thanksgiving Day.
But here's one little thought for us,
To take and put away:
Two helpful hands and one glad heart
Will make Thanksgiving Day.

A Girl's Essay on Boys.

Boys are men that have not got as big as their papas, and girls are women that will be ladies by-an-by. Man was made before woman. When God looked at Adam He said to Himself: "Well, I think I can do better if I try again." And He made Eve. God liked Eve so much better than Adam that there have been more women than men. Boys are a trouble. They wear out everything but soap. If I had my way half the world would be girls and the rest dolls. My papa is so nice that I think he must have been a little girl when he was a boy.

When a man says that he is willing to change his opinion, you'll never be able to convince him.

When a wife reigns she sometimes storms.

America is too refined to allow four legged bull fights, only the two legged variety being allowed.

At last a use has been found for the telephone directory. A man was arrested recently for striking his wife with one.

Modern kids need more play and less gun play.

Thanksgiving.

We think of Thanksgiving in harvest time,
In the yielding, gathering golden time,
When the sky is fringed with a hazy mist,
And the blushing maples by frost lips kissed,
When the barns are full with the harvest cheer
And the crowning thankful day draws near.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

LET'S HAVE A SANDWICH

At this season of the year when sandwiches are enjoyed by the millions, a few recipes will be favored.

Green Pepper and Parsley Sandwiches.—Cut a slice from the stem-ends of four green peppers. Remove the seeds and the white portion and finely chop through a meat grinder. Chop one small mild onion and one-fourth of a cupful of finely chopped parsley, mix all lightly and moisten with any good salad dressing. Use as a filling between slices of graham bread spread with butter. Cut into small triangles and serve with cocktails.

Crab-Meat Sandwiches.—Remove the meat from fresh boiled crabs, or use the canned meat. Finely mince with a fork or silver knife, adding an equal measure of finely chopped and drained cucumber, discarding the seeds. Add three tablespoonfuls of chopped chives or green onions. Moisten with mayonnaise dressing. Use as a filling on buttered bread that has been spread with horseradish butter.

Egg and Tomato Sandwiches.—Spread thin slices of bread with tiny good salad dressing. Cover half of the slices with lettuce leaves and tomato, each being covered with a thin layer of salad dressing. Chop six hard-cooked eggs, add seasoning and finely chopped water cress (about one-half cupful), spread the remaining slices with the egg mixture. Put together in pairs, press edges together and trim off crusts. Cut into triangles and garnish each with one-fourth of a slice of tomato sprinkled with finely minced parsley and a tiny rose of mayonnaise.

Midsummer Sandwiches.—Work a cream cheese until soft, adding fresh cream to make of the consistency to spread. Add one-fourth of a cupful of chopped stuffed olives, four sweet gherkins, two tablespoonfuls each of capers and chives finely chopped. Mix thoroughly, moisten with mayonnaise and use as filling for buttered rye bread. Serve with crisp red radishes.

Business Girls' Club Banquet

Local Banquet at Y. W. C. A. Tuesday Night One of Three Hundred Held Throughout United States—Inspiring Address by H. H. Flemming.

There was a large gathering of Y. W. business and professional girls at the Business Girls' Nation-wide Banquet at the Y. W. C. A. on Tuesday evening. This was one of the 300 banquets of a similar sort being held in this country Tuesday night. A very clever program and menu had been prepared by Miss Herdman, and was as follows:

Program.

Invocation ....Mrs. George F. Rice
(This was written by Miss Clara S. Raed, chairman, National Department for Business Women.)

Songs: Here's to Our Dear Y. W. C. A.
There's a Long, Long Trail.
All I Want is Sociability.
Delaware.

Violin Solo, by Miss Mae Eckert, accompanied by Miss Kline.

Greetings from the president of the Business Girls' Assembly, read by Miss Dorothy Kennedy, local Business Girls' Club president.

Vocal Solo, "America, the Beautiful", Miss Marion Jones, accompanied by Miss Kline.

Address, "Adventuring Into Business", by H. H. Flemming.

Menu: Chicken pot-pie, mashed potatoes, peas, cranberry sauce, celery, bread and butter, coffee, ice cream with chocolate sauce.

Immediately following the supper, the following announcements were made: Directly after the meeting, class in leather work and discussion group, led by Miss Van Etten, subject being "The Budget".

Next Wednesday night the supper will be called "Competitive Stunt Night".

At the opening of the program, Miss Kennedy read the following greetings from National Headquarters:

Hyallie Fiedler, Nikirk,
President National Business and Professional Assembly.

Greetings from the National Council of the Business and Professional Assembly of the Young Women's Christian Association, St. Louis, Mo.

On this evening of the first nation-wide banquet of the business and professional women and girls of the Young Women's Christian Association, the realization of a great unity of purpose strides in silent forces across the miles of a new endeavor.

May it prove to be a tradition which will eventually spread its influence to our fellow business women around the world.

Mr. Flemming's Address.

Following the greatly enjoyed musical numbers, Miss Kennedy introduced H. H. Flemming, who had been asked to speak on "Adventuring Into Business".

Mr. Flemming said that today there is a real interest all over the United States in this business and professional girls Y. W. organization. He had read over the subjects suggested by the National Y. W. C. A., for addresses on this particular occasion, and they showed all angles of the problem, from the commercial, the state and nation-wide women-in-business movement; the striving for ideals in the business world, and the raising of all world relations to a higher standard. Women are today holding an important place in the business world, and women's colleges are realizing the necessity of training their over-full institutions of girls so that they may go out into the world prepared to cope with business as well as social and home life problems. Nor is success in the business and professional world dependent upon a college education but upon a willingness to learn and the experience of actual contact with the business world put to the best use. The means of helping our women and girls to greater opportunities in the business world, he placed as the problems of the girls and women before him, and such others as were meeting the country over that night. In this day of "International Friendships", wherein our nation stands in the forefront, holding to our ideals of the best, Mr. Flemming considered that the women of the land should make themselves students of business in the best sense of that term. Today the women must have a state and national outlook and the same insight into business and political affairs that men have. Along with business responsibility women must meet political, that is, suffrage; responsibilities. To the woman-power of the land, with its belief in Christianity and the ideals of the Great Master, the speaker rested the higher development of business, political and social life the world over. Today the nations of the world are looking to this land for real leadership, because of our wonderful heritage from the past, and Mr. Flemming counted on the women of America, especially the business and professional women, even though they leave those fields a little later for the home life, not only to hold high the ideals of our country and our Master but to help put those ideals into actual living.

The inspiring evening closed with the singing of one verse of "Follow the Gleam".

Hint of Greek Draping in Some Winter Models

There is more than a hint of Greek draping in some of the winter models which Paris is praising.

Patou has a conspicuous example of flowing lines in a dress for evening made of black chiffon. A bertha effect is extended into a scarf which hangs from the right shoulder in a long forward falling drapery. There is also a suggestion of drapery in the chiffon skirt which hangs much longer on the left side than it does on the right.

A jewel of aquamarine holds the scarf in place on the shoulder.

Success without service is as impossible as crops without sunshine or rain.

THE OMNIPRESENT BAND AS A TRIMMING DETAIL—DOTS APPEAR ON SWEATERS, VELVETS, AND NETS

New York—In scanning the pages of any fashion magazine, in studying models on display in the shops, and in observing what is being worn, one cannot fail to be impressed by the band as an effective motif. So many sorts of dresses are banded, horizontally, vertically, or diagonally, that one wonders what the scheme of decoration was before this simple device was resorted to. There was none, you finally remember, for it was not so long ago that trimmings were rediscovered.

Before that, dresses, particularly sports dresses, were impressively simple. Now apparently whenever a designer feels called upon to add some sort of embellishment, she adds a band or two of self or contrasting material, and causes the band to take any direction, or to be of any width. This has been the accepted order for several months past. Now one senses a tendency to spiral and curving sections, applied like bands, or to bands that, like everything else in momentary favor, have some claim to irregularity.

A Smart Woman Walking on Fifth Avenue Wore a Fingertip Tunic Frock with Pointed Border, Composed of Blue Sheer Velvet Spotted in White, Which Topped a Very Full Skirt of Bright Blue Georgette. The Latter Material Is Introduced in a Pointed Band at Front, Which Finishes in a Loose Floating Bow at Back.

There are always glittering and important exceptions. The newest development in sweaters and in jumpers made from materials of the sweater type is toward dots. In fact, it takes little stretch of the imagination to visualize a spring in which we will be besprinkled and bestrewn with dots of varying sizes.

The many speckled velvets at present being worn are one version of the dot; the several metal dotted woolens, another; while no one needs any introduction to transparent chiffon velvets that are dotted in several ways. Jenny's interest in point d'esprit, a net with a diminutive dot, is another instance.

Fashion Hints That Will Interest Women Who Care

Nutria, krimmer and Persian lamb are among the fashionable furs that have followed fox in the fall running.

Chanel's beaded tissue evening dresses are fashion leaders.

Crepe satin, especially black, heads the list of smart and useful materials.

The skull cap, completely covering the coiffure, is a Paris favorite.

Molyneux is among those who indorse printed chiffon for evening. Printed velvets also have standing.

The tweed hat bearing the Desrat label is an exceedingly smart affair.

The velvet, heavily furred evening wrap is the season's favorite, although handsome lame brocades are by no means passe.

Your new hat must be draped to your head and carefully fitted.

The side flare and the pointed panel offer possibilities for graceful, uneven hemlines.

Sashes Are Reinstated by Paris Dressmakers

The new "little girl" frocks, which are not for children but grown-up versions of the flaring skirted dresses with normal waistlines, often have broad sashes tied around them. Not many grown-ups are slender enough to wear the style, but there are a few Paris dressmakers with very special clientele who are pushing it. Sometimes the sash is a wide taffeta ribbon. Often it is of the same soft material as the dress. Satins, chiffons and crepe de chine are all used for the sash dresses.

There Was a Young Lady Who Lived in a Dress

FOR she was a very wise young lady, and had long ago decided that if one must live on a limited income, one could do it much more gracefully in one exquisite dress than in three ordinary ones.

...The problem is where to find the one perfect frock. We have some exceedingly clever ones especially qualified to play this difficult role.

8:30—12:30 is a strenuous time in the well-run household!

Does your breakfast sustain you as it should?

According to recent investigations made by the big women's magazines, 70% or more of the hardest household activities take place in the four morning hours.

No wonder so many women are tired out by lunch-time; too tired to enjoy the leisurely later hours of the day!

Much of this fatigue could be prevented, authorities say, by breakfasts that "stand by you." After a long night's fast, we must have sustaining food to carry us through these strenuous hours.

To make their morning vitality last longer, thousands of women have taken to a breakfast of Quick Mother's Oats.

This rich, sustaining food is a real help towards better mornings—because it is such excellently balanced nourishment. It provides not only energy and tissue-building materials—but minerals and vitamins essential to health, and tender bran, so valuable for roughage.

If you have never tasted Quick Mother's Oats, you will notice at once its unusual fineness of flavor. As delicate as tender nutmeats! Careful milling of a selected kind of oats brings about this difference.

Quick Mother's Oats, which cooks in 2½ to 5 minutes has this same goodness; your grocer has Quick Mother's Oats as well as the regular kind for those who prefer it.

Moth Barrier Zone Cut Down

Quarantine Removed From 4,000 Square Miles As Result of Successful Fight Against Gipsy Moth.

Albany, Nov. 23.—A quarantine reduction of 4,000 square miles in the area of the gipsy moth barrier zone and eastern New York is one of the marked accomplishments of the Conservation Department during the past year.

In his forthcoming annual report to the legislature Conservation Commissioner Alexander Macdonald, discussing the success that has attended the efforts to prevent the invasion of New York state from New England by the destructive forest, fruit and shade tree pest, the gipsy moth, says:

"The progress that has marked the gipsy moth exclusion campaign since its organization in 1923 has continued through 1927. When this campaign was organized by the Conservation Department and cooperators, it was the belief and hope that, through a systematically organized program, the western spread of this pest which had at that time cost the country millions of dollars for control work and millions more in ravages of forest areas, fruit and shade trees, could at least be retarded, if not entirely halted.

"For seventeen years previous to the start of this exclusion campaign, the western spread of the gipsy moth averaged over six airline miles a year. Since the start of the program, no spread has been recorded. This is in itself a noteworthy accomplishment, but even this record has been excelled.

"A further thought was entertained faintly when this program was initiated that if the westward advance of the gipsy moth could be halted for a few years, eventually the size of the infested area could be reduced. In other words, the barrier zone line could be pushed back eastward. The progress that has been made from year to year has continually encouraged this thought. The date for the initial preparation for such a move, however, has arrived much sooner than the most optimistic could have anticipated.

"The first preparatory act was suggested by the federal horticultural board in 1926. It is customary whenever the presence of the gipsy moth is noted, for that department to enforce rigid quarantine regulations. That is, material originating in the infested area, to be moved outside the area, if liable to spread the gipsy moth, is subjected to careful inspection by inspectors of the federal horticultural board, before shipment can be made, thereby reducing the danger of distribution of the pest by public carrier. Such quarantine regulations applied to the New England part of the barrier zone in 1924. The federal horticultural board was so favorably impressed by the remarkable progress that was made in the elimination of all colonies that had been discovered in the next two or three years that quarantine restrictions on areas within the barrier zone were removed in 1927, thus releasing from quarantine about 4,000 square miles.

DAILY RADIO PROGRAM

Friday, November 25.

Now that Thanksgiving is past radio listeners, especially the children, will begin to think about Christmas. WJZ must likely had this in mind when it scheduled the feature "Santa Claus and His Gnomes" for broadcasting at 7:30 Friday night. Other highlights will be concerts by the German male chorus through WNAC at 8:00, the National male quartet through CNRA at 7:00, and the Suffolk Symphony orchestra through WBZ, the Davenport high school glee club through WOC and the Enterprises mixed quartet through WOO, all at 10:00. As out of the ordinary highlight will be the radiation by WBAL at 9:00 of excerpts from the Synagogue Ritual by the choir of Har Sinai Temple. Football games to be broadcast Saturday afternoon will include the Army vs. Navy through WJZ, WEAF and the Red and Blue networks, Holy Cross vs. Boston through WNAC and WBZ, and Notre Dame vs. Southern California through WEBH-WJJD, WGN-WLIB and WMAQ-WQJ.

A.C. TUBES —
NO BATTERIES
THE FACT that a charger is "built into" a radio does not make that instrument an electric. Sparton has no batteries. You simply "plug in", and forget further care. Sparton always has been a TRUE electric, and developed the marvelous utilization of electric power that gave the world "Radio's Richest Voice".
Clarence Van Aken is Enthusiastic:
"The only way I can describe the rich voice of my Sparton is to steal the phrase 'It Satisfies' —with every kind of program."

STOMACH UPSET

Get at the real cause. That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. Know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain. All Druggists.

Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c, 30c, 60c.

For Children's Croupy Coughs and Colds

MOTHERS, DO THIS!

Spread CAMPHOROLE over throat and chest. It penetrates quickly, as it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes, and easily loosens up a stubborn cough, or cold in throat or chest.

Always have a jar of CAMPHOROLE handy. You never know when your precious one will awaken at night with that croupy cough, which almost sets you frantic. Hard to get a doctor at night. Then you'll be glad you have a friend on hand like CAMPHOROLE.

Quickly it acts, opening up the air passages, enabling your dear one to breathe easily and with safety.

What a relief for anxious mothers! No sickening drugs to upset and weaken their delicate stomachs. It is far better than Camphorated Oil, and does not stain. Once you try CAMPHOROLE, you'll then realize how good it is for Croup, Cough, Colds, Bronchitis, Tonsilitis, Sore Throat, Asthma and Catarrh.

Promise a Good Fruit Display

The fruit exhibit of the Experiment Station at the winter meeting of the State Horticultural Society in Rochester in January promises to be unusually attractive this year due to the prolonged ripening season and consequent high coloring of the Station fruit, says a statement just issued by the station authorities on their plans for the exhibit at the annual fruit growers' meeting. The collection of apple varieties exhibited by the station horticulturists has long been a feature of the Horticultural Society meetings, and this year is expected to prove of special interest because of the excellent condition of the fruit.

As in past years, the apples will be shown in "flats" arranged according to a definite color scheme on a rack fifty feet long and about eight feet high. A rack of this size makes possible the display of a large number of varieties. In addition several new or unusual varieties will be shown in plates. The station fruit exhibit also forms a background for the competitive exhibits entered by members of the Horticultural Society.

Besides the fruit, the Station will provide several other exhibits illustrating important lines of work under way at Geneva. Among these will be an exhibit of recent developments in the control of insect pests and diseases of orchards and small fruits. This exhibit will be supplemented by conferences at the exhibit where fruit growers may obtain expert advice on their personal problems.

An extensive display of station publications will also be provided and an opportunity given visitors to the exhibit to learn what the station has in the way of printed matter on horticultural subjects.

Yellow Jackets All Set for Game On Thanksgiving

The Yellow Jacket football players are working here to appropriately close their season against the Westchester A. C. Thanksgiving Day at the Parc grounds. The game is scheduled to start at 2:30 and a large gathering of fans is expected to witness the game.

The Yellow Jackets know that the Westchester aggregation is a collection of men who indulge in superior playing from the opening until the final whistle and are earnestly preparing to offer a brand of football that will overcome the sterling playing of the famed Westchester eleven. The Westchester team has a good record but their list of encounters is clouded by one defeat by a strong outfit with whom they met several weeks ago. The Mamaroneck All-Stars defeated them 13-0 a couple of weeks ago after a hard struggle. The Westchester eleven has downed such teams as the All-Stamford team of unpleasant cut, the Penn A. C. strong eastern coast team and the Portchester aggregation of fighting gridiron performers.

The Kingston representatives have their first game to drop since their debut in the football world. They took to the gridiron last year and went through the season without a defeat but were held from scoring on one occasion when a tough battle with the Westchester team ended in a scoreless tie. The calibre of the Thanksgiving Day opponents may be easily judged by their stand against the local players last season for the same lineup is playing for Westchester this year. Kingston is eager to overcome the team that held them last season and the Westchester eleven is equally as anxious to down the eleven that has defeated such teams as the Service team, champions of the West Point Service League, and the Artillery.

The local line-up from present indications will be the same as started last week. Sammons, who played a great game at guard last Sunday, will again be in the game.

Coach Gwinn Henry

The photograph shows Coach Gwinn Henry, who teaches the gridiron game for Missouri. Henry has been successful in the valley conference, and his teams have won titles in various years. Henry learned his football at the University of Texas.

"Foolproof" Timepiece for Football Officials

The "foolproof" timepiece, constructed for use by football officials and adopted recently at Western conference games, has gained a foothold in the East. For the first time, the new watch was introduced at a Harvard contest when Horween's eleven met Indiana. J. J. Lipp, the designer, was one of the officials at the game.

The timer consists of two separate mechanisms, one for registering the time of play and the other for recording time out. The watch has a 75-minute dial, representing the four 15-minute periods and the 15-minute intermission between halves.

In addition, notations appear on the dial to remind officials of their duties under the rules at specific intervals. There is a lug control for starting and stopping each movement, the snap back to zero is by a stem press with a safe locking device which prevents losing the time even if the watch is dropped or hit by the ball.

Troy Quintet At Armory Court Thanksgiving

The Kingston Metropolitan League representatives will meet the newly organized Troy quint at the local armory Thanksgiving night at 8 o'clock. Catskill and Albany fell before the locals in the first two games played here.

Kingston will be represented on the court by the same lineup that has been strongly opposing the other Met teams through the past several weeks. Herlihy will function at the pivot position with "Red" Cleary and Fritz Knothe forwards and Mickey Hayes and Willie Marrin in the guard positions.

The Troy team will have Leo Malone, one of the smartest center men in the country, George Norman, another veteran of ability, whose canny knack of ranking with the leading point getters year after year never seems to vary, Joe Ehrs, Neidel, Levine, Case, O'Neill and Ross. This team, recently granted a franchise in the Metropolitan League, will play Brooklyn on the Troy court Friday night.

Standing of the Clubs.

RED SHIELDS WILL PLAY YONKERS QUINTET

Saturday night the Red Shields will play one of their outstanding games of the season when they meet the Yonkers De Molay team at the local Salvation Army court. Captain DuBois's men have received word from the down-river aggregation that they will use the following lineup: Schmidt and Smith, forwards; Rohling, center; Gerloff and Wichman, guards. The substitutes are Buckley, Colonnelli and Water.

The Red Shields have received word that the contemplated game with Cornwall High School has been cancelled by the visiting team due to the disability of two of their men. This game, which was slated for Friday, will no doubt be played on some future date.

McLarnin vs. Mandell.

Detroit, Nov. 23 (AP).—Jimmy McLarnin, sensational Pacific coast fighter, who is tarrying in the lightweight class for a brief spell with hopes of getting a crack at Sammy Mandell's crown, will meet Billy Wallace, aggressive Cleveland battler tonight, in a bout that will determine Mandell's next championship opponent.

Game at Jewish Center.

The Young Judaeans will meet the Dan's quintet of Schenectady tonight at the downtown Jewish Community Center court. The game will be called at 8:30 after the playing of a preliminary scheduled to start at 7:30. The Judaean Juniors will oppose another local quintet in the curtain raiser. Dancing will be held after the games.

To Play at Marlborough.

Tony Turck and his Romance of Rhythm Orchestra will furnish music for a dance to be held in St. Mary's Hall, Marlborough, tonight.

Sir Thomas Lipton Taken for Steward

The yachting cap affected by Sir Thomas Lipton proved a money maker for the multimillionaire while en route to the United States aboard the Leviathan.

A woman passenger, presumably nearsighted, called Sir Thomas to her deck chair.

"Steward," she said, "will you please bring me a rug?"

Without comment Sir Thomas found the desired blanket and brought it to the woman.

"Thank you," and she tipped him 50 cents.

Sir Thomas bowed low and walked away. He kept the half dollar.

SERVICE TEAMS MEET FOR ANNUAL CLASH AT NEW YORK

Perhaps the most colorful event of the football season is the annual Army-Navy game. This year's game will be no exception. In the center of this picture you see how the Cadets look on parade before the game. Left to right are Captain Wilson, West Point, and Captain Hannegan, Navy. Upper, left to right: Born, end; Murrell, fullback; Harbold, end, and Sprague, star tackle, all of Army. Lower, left to right: Lloyd, star Navy end; Ransford, Schuber and Clifton, Navy back. Army appears to have the better team based on the fact that they have beaten Notre Dame, while Navy has lost to this team earlier in the year.

MONTANA COACH SOLE DIRECTOR

Ott Romney of State University Plays Lone Hand.

Coach Ott Romney of Montana State university is one of the few remaining "lone hand" athletic instructors in America.

Romney likes to give everything his personal attention and as a result directs four sports at Montana—football, basket ball, track and baseball. He has some assistant coaches but directs and holds himself personally responsible for his school's showing in all competition.

In addition to the work already outlined, Romney attends to the executive duties connected with being director of the department of physical education. He also is assistant dean of men, president of the Bozeman Service club and finds time to deliver addresses on athletics throughout the Northwest.

Romney graduated from Montana State in 1917 and then took a year's work at Utah university. At Montana State he won letters in football, basket ball, baseball, track and tennis and, to round the whole thing out, he was a member of the university debating team.

After some high school experience, Romney returned to Montana at a time when his alma mater was doing poorly in an athletic way. That was in 1923 and the teams were not making much of a showing in the Rocky Mountain conference. In the last four years and a half the Bobcats have forged rapidly to the front.

A canceled game kept Montana from qualifying for the conference championship last season in football, as it did not lose a contest. The basket ball team won the conference championship last winter after a hard fight.

Not Superstitious

Barkham Garner, quarterback of the California State college team, is not at all superstitious; he would probably walk under a ladder without the slightest fear, and he wouldn't object at all if a black cat crossed his path. When Coach C. E. Peterson was handing out jerseys recently, Garner spoke up and said: "Give me No. 13, coach, if you don't mind." He has played in No. 13 in high school and on two college teams. "It's my lucky number, and I want to be lucky this fall," he said.

There are still too many folks down on the farm and up on the city.

HERE'S THE CRACK TEAM THEY'RE ALL TALKING ABOUT

NO CLASH IN AMERICAN AND BRITISH GOLF DATES.

New York, Nov. 23 (AP).—There will be no clash of dates to worry the golfing elite of America and Great Britain when the niblic wielders of the two nations unsheaf their clubs for the tournament play of 1928.

With the British features all set for the month of May, the United States Golf Association announced yesterday that the American open championship will be played over the Olympia field course south of Chicago on June 21, 22 and 23, district qualifying rounds will be staged on June 11.

CHANDLERS WILL PLAY CONGREGATIONAL FIVE.

The Chandlers will meet the Congregationals on the Y. M. C. A. court tonight. The former aggregation has registered six consecutive wins so far this season while the latter has been strengthened by the addition of several new players of ability. The game is expected to be a fast meeting. No admission will be charged for the game. Friday night the Chandlers will meet the Presbyterian five of Poughkeepsie. The two teams met in a previous battle which was taken after a hard struggle by the Chandlers.

Taberski Has Big Lead.

Chicago, Nov. 23 (AP).—After two nights of runaway pocket billiards, Frank Taberski of Schenectady, N. Y., had only to hold his advantage to defeat the challenger for his title, Pasquale Natalie of New York, in the final block tonight.

HE'S FIGHTING FOR MR. MUSSOLINI

Latest invader seeking Gene Tunney's heavyweight crown is Mario Masi (above), Italian socker and personal friend of Mussolini. Masi, shown with his manager, is getting in trim for shot at champion, in New York.

"Well Mac, you're passing out fine cigars, I'll say. And you are always preaching economy in smoking. Didn't you say you never would pay more than 10 cents for a cigar?"

"Yep", drawled Mac, "and that cigar you're praising set me back just ten cents."

"Then you got it at a bargain sale," I came back. "This is a Sumatra wrapper—ALL-Havana filler—a high priced cigar if ever I smoked one. No mistaking this flavor and mildness."

"Sure it's a bargain," Mac agreed, "but it's one that you can get 365 days in the year. Peter Schuyler Victor, everywhere for just ten cents."

News of the Day In Wall Street

New York, Nov. 23 (AP).—National Gas and Light Company and subsidiaries earned $1.52 a share on the common stock in the year ended September 30 against $1.65 a share the year before.

Marked improvement is officially noted in the financial condition of Erie railroad since the new management assumed control the rest of the year. Cash on hand is double current liabilities and after several years of financial uncertainties, the company is in a position to ask discounts on its purchases.

October surplus of the Wabash railway was $937,231 against $1,265,714 in October 1926, and for ten months this year, $3,678,516 against $6,798,807 in the corresponding 1926 period.

The flow of gold to Canada continued today with a shipment of $1,500,000 by the Canadian Bank of Commerce to Montreal.

Martin Parry Corporation and subsidiaries earned four cents a share in the year ended August 31, against $4.14 a share in the preceding year, net income dropping to $5,234 after deduction of $292,191 for inventory losses and unabsorbed overhead expenses from $517,842.

DETECTIVE LYNCH IS ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Chicago, Nov. 23 (AP).—Activities of Chicago gangsters in their latest war for the control of gambling and rice syndicates were responsible for the accidental shooting of Detective Sergeant Thomas Lynch by another policeman early today.

A green sedan near the home of Tony Lombardo, allied with Al (Scarface) Capone, a leader of one of the rival gangs, attracted the attention of Lynch while touring the west side. Before police in a squad car could question the occupants of the sedan, the latter drove off.

In a two-mile chase, the squad car skidded on a sharp turn and Policeman F. T. Barnes's pistol was accidentally discharged, the bullet entering the sergeant's head.

At a hospital it was said that the officer probably would recover.

The gangsters escaped.

Mrs. Grayson Returning.

S. S. Leviathan, Nov. 23 (AP)—Firm in the belief that she had already established one record for American women traveling in Europe, Mrs. Frances Wilson Grayson, who unsuccessfully tried to establish a transatlantic flight record, was headed for home today. She visited France, Germany and England without spending a single minute shopping.

No Intimidation In Remus Trial

Rules Court Following Remus's Charge That Witness George Klug Was Intimidated in the Prosecutor's Office.

Cincinnati, Nov. 23 (AP).—George Remus's murder trial was turned into a hearing on intimidating charges shortly after it was resumed today.

George Klug, who drove Remus to Eden Park, where he shot and killed his wife last October 6, was in the witness box, put there by the prosecution. He was resorting to "I forget" and "I don't recall" to virtually every question asked. He had been declared a hostile witness. His attitude, with clipped replies and a pugnacious outthrust of the chin, was decidedly unfriendly to the state.

"The reason this witness makes those replies is that when he was in the prosecutor's office he was intimidated", said Remus, arising to address the court.

The defendant sought to continue with his objection, but Judge Chester R. Shook cut him short.

"If you make the charge of intimidation of a witness, we must have that argued in the absence of the jury", ruled the court.

The jury was sent out and the point was argued.

Klug told the court that when he had been taken into the prosecutor's office the afternoon after he had driven Remus to kill Mrs. Remus he had been given five minutes to answer a question and refusing, finally had been locked in a cell. After two days and two nights there he was ordered held on $10,000 bond as a material witness, he said.

Prosecutor Charles P. Taft was alleged by Klug to have demanded that he say whether after the shooting he had driven the Remus automobile to the Pennsylvania station.

"They locked me up when I wouldn't say it inside five minutes", said Klug.

The court ruled that there had been no intimidation and the jury was recalled.

"The court is interested only in intimidation or coercion and not in the evasive answers given by the witness unless under intimidation", ruled Judge Shook.

Three Found Slashed to Death

Buffalo, N. Y. Nov. 23(AP).—A bloodstained axe, a carving knife and a mason's hammer were held by police today as probable clues to their hunt for the murderer of a negro woman, her daughter and her niece.

The bodies of Mrs. John Clark, 36, her daughter Mabel, 16, and niece, Marie Miller, six, were found by the woman's husband in their home at Lackawanna last night on his return from work.

The victims had been slashed and battered, and the blood stained weapons were found near the bodies.

Police believe robbery was the motive, as $40 Clark said was in his wife's possession could not be found.

ROBBER JUST TAKES ALL THAT HE NEEDS

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—New York has one robber who is this sort of chap—when he needs $11.60 that's all he takes, no matter what's in the till.

A young man walked into a cigar store, held up the clerk, took $34 from the cash register, counted out $11.60 and put back the remainder.

"That's all I need", he told the clerk as he left.

Wit, Wisdom and Deer for Rotary

Kingston Rotarians dined this week on venison provided by the official Nimrod of the Rotary Club, Frank Thompson, whose recent hunting trip was very successful. As special commissioner of the Rotary Club, Mr. Thompson specially shot a specially selected deer and brought it home with him. The Governor Clinton chef did the rest and after the Rotarians had done their duty one more deer had been exterminated.

The speaker of the day was the Rev. G. D. Wither, pastor of Trinity M. E. Church, whose address was both witty and wise. The serious part was directed to a plea for greater encouragement of the young people in their aspirations and ideals, urging the older people to display less cynicism and stoicism. There is too much talk that all men in politics are either corrupt or fools if they are not corrupt, too much dodging of problems, too much indifference that acts as a wet blanket on the working out of the ideals natural to young folks. The attitude of the older people stupefies and their apathy is a damper on their idealism. We thus stand in the way of the solution by them of problems we have given up and that yet must be solved. Instead of discouraging, we should encourage them to develop dreams of the world's glory that may become realities.

GOVERNMENT WANTS MORE RUM CHASERS

Washington, D. C., November 23.—Increased effort to stem the flow of liquor into the United States from Canada by way of the waters about Detroit, Mich., is seen in the announcement of an examination by the United States Civil Service Commission to fill positions of motorboat operators on the Detroit and St. Clair rivers and on Lake St. Clair.

The operators will be employed under the bureau of prohibition but will serve under the Collector of Customs at Detroit. The duties are to operate motor boats capable of attaining a speed of 30 to 50 miles an hour, to make repairs to the machinery of boats, and to assist in apprehending smugglers.

Men between 22 and 40 years of age who are experienced motor boat operators and who are fond of excitement are expected to apply in large numbers for the examination. A considerable number of appointments will be made to augment the present force. The entrance salary is $1,860 a year. Higher-salaried positions are filled through promotion. The examination will be held in cities in Illinois, Indiana, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Vermont and Wisconsin.

Full information may be obtained from the secretary of the local board of civil service examiners at the post office in any city in the states named or from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C.

Testimony Closed In Wagner Trial

Summations Will be Made and Jury Charged by Justice Brown Friday —Denies He Told Ella Stephens He Would Kill Troopers.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 23 (AP).—Taking of testimony in the case of Wilmont Leroy Wagner, young Caneadea farmer, charged with the murder of State Trooper Robert Roy, closed today. Court adjourned until Friday, when summations will be made and the jury charged by Justice Charles H. Brown.

Defense evidence closed when Wagner stepped from the witness stand after cross-examination by Walter N. Renwick, district attorney of Allegany county, where the shooting occurred.

Wagner was questioned by Mr. Renwick regarding his conduct in the jails at Belmont and Buffalo. He admitted he had worn his coat inside out, had torn up papers and had thrown his mattress on the floor and slept there. He denied tearing up any bed clothes. He denied sleeping on the floor of the Erie county jail here, but admitted he had done so at Belmont.

"Were you trying to make yourself out insane?" asked the prosecutor.

"No."

"Well, what were you trying to do?"

"I didn't know what I was doing, exactly."

Wagner denied he had exhibited certain specific instances of peculiar conduct when he was examined at the Belmont jail and in Buffalo by Dr. James W. Putnam, alienist.

Mr. Renwick asked him what members of his family he had seen after the shooting. Wagner said he had seen nobody.

Answering a question interjected by his attorney, Thomas F. Rogers, Wagner denied he had ever told Ella Stephens he would kill some troopers.

Wagner accused troopers of throwing fire crackers into his cell at Belmont.

"They were big ones," he said. "They must have been six or seven inches long. Under Sheriff Schuyler would not give me any tobacco because I would not talk. He used to hold a can of it just outside my reach."

"They have treated me fine here in Buffalo, though," he concluded.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Nov. 23 (AP).—Speculative interest in today's stock market centered in about a score specialties, which soared 4 to 12 points. Standard industrials and rails held fairly steady, meeting good support of reactions, but also encountering large offerings on the rallies. Pool operations continued to provide a large part of the buying power, although increased public participation was reported by commission houses of the speculative favorites.

Calling of about $10,000,000 in the bank loans, presumably to meet holiday currency demands, had no effect on the money market. Call money renewed at 3½ per cent for the fifteenth consecutive session.

Rumors of a new steel merger to be headed by the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company were not taken seriously in banking quarters. Some selling came into U. S. Steel common but it was checked by the announcement of another slight increase in the corporation's mill operations, accompanied by reports of large railroad inquiries for rails. Otis Steel prior preferred soared 31 points to a new high at 91 on reports that the company would earn more than double its $7 dividend this year. National Lead jumped nearly ten points to a new top at 135, and Brooklyn Edison advanced 7 points to a new peak at 194.

Renewed buying of Montgomery Ward, which approached close to the century mark, was accompanied by unconfirmed rumors that Arthur Cutten, Chicago operator, was heavily interested in that issue. Radio, Philadelphia and Reading Coal, Dodge Brothers preferred and American Republic also showed great activity, blocks of 2,000 to 10,000 shares changing hands in those and other issues.

Buying of the rails was held in check by the publication of relatively poor October earnings reports by the Southern Pacific, Wabash and Western Maryland roads. Special strength developed, however, in the "Soo" issues, each of which advanced 3 points or more.

ORCHARD GLEANINGS

FALL PRUNING IS BEST FOR BLIGHT

Pruning out the dead wood in the fall is the best method of controlling fire blight of apples and pears, advises Dr. A. L. Pierstorff, fruit specialist of the New Jersey State College of Agriculture.

The bacteria which cause fire blight winter over on the diseased parts of the tree, and in the spring are carried to the opening blossoms by bees and other insects. Spraying is of no avail; hence the only practicable control is to prevent its spread by cutting out and burning all diseased parts of the trees.

This can best be done before the trees have shed their green leaves, as the brown leaves and dead twigs stand out prominently. Cut off the twigs and branches just below the dead areas. Use a sharp knife to cut out the cankers formed on large limbs, removing all the dead bark and about one-half inch of live bark on all sides of the dead area. See that such cuts are pointed at both ends so they will heal readily the following season. After making the wounds, sterilize them with mercuric cyanide (1 part to 500 parts of water) and bichloride of mercury (1 part to 500 of water) mixed together. Carry these disinfectants in a wooden or glass container, as metal containers tend to weaken them. They may be applied with a swab made with a piece of cloth or a sponge tied to a stick. Disinfect the tools also occasionally. The chemicals should be kept out of the reach of children or live stock, as they are both violent poisons.

Fire blight was first described as occurring in the highlands of the Hudson river about a century and a half ago. It is so called because the trees attacked have the appearance of being scorched by fire.

All Fruit in Storage Should Be Kept Cool

It might be advised that all fruit in storage be kept cool. However, apples comprise most of the fruit stored an corn-belt farms, so any suggestions relative to the handling of the stored fruit naturally apply most directly to apples, says Successful Farming.

Those who have stored apples will do well to sort them over occasionally—particularly if they are in common storage. Where high-quality closely graded apples have been put into cold storage, this sorting is usually never necessary unless it does happen to be very late in the season, beyond the usual date to which the variety can be kept.

In common storage the occasional warm spells through winter cause development of rots, and it is the danger from this standpoint that requires the occasional sorting over of apples that are in a cave or cellar or in any storage, unless it is cold storage.

Compulsory Grading Law Adopted by Virginia

The general assembly of the state of Virginia has undertaken to compel the apple growers of the commonwealth to adopt better marketing methods. A law has been passed which requires that all apples offered for sale shall be graded according to the standard state grading system, and that each package shall be stamped with the name and address of the grower or packer, and that the variety, quantity and size of product be specified.

Forcing the fruit grower to employ up-to-date and profitable methods is a "new one" as far as this country is concerned. We doubt the wisdom of this type of legislation, says the Farmers' Guide, but we'll admit that it is an interesting experiment. If law can make us good, it ought to be able to make us prosperous.

Latham Raspberry Was Developed in Minnesota

The Latham raspberry was developed by the Minnesota agricultural experiment station as a result of systematic crossing. It is a seedling from a cross between King and Louden. In the test plots, it was known as Minnesota No. 4. The first plants were set out in a small way for trial purposes in 1914. The variety was named Latham in 1920 in honor of A. W. Latham, who was secretary of the Minnesota State Horticultural society for 29 years.

The variety seems to be rapidly displacing all other varieties in Minnesota, Wisconsin and the Dakotas. The canes are quite hardy, vigorous and productive. The fruit is large, firm and of good quality. It has a long ripening period.

Pruning Time Here

Farm orchards will generally stand careful scrutiny for the purpose of doing some pruning this winter. Remove all dead wood, especially all branches that have carried fire blight or other diseases. Be sure to take out all branches that rub and crowd each other. Do not leave ugly stubs or wounds. It is always best to prune from the outside inward, so as to reduce the fruiting surface. The object is to keep the outer branches from becoming overloaded.

Cranks

"If a crank is somebody who knows exactly what he wants and who insists and persists until he gets it," says a writer in the American Magazine, "put me down as the worst crank in town."

SEEK HUSBAND, ACCUSED OF SLASHING HIS BRIDE.

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 23 (AP).—While Mrs. Belle Higgins lay in a hospital here today in a serious condition from loss of blood, a hunt was in progress for her husband, James Higgins, 25, who is accused of slashing the throat of his 18 year old bride beside a lonely road in the outskirts of the city last night.

Married four months ago after a brief courtship, the couple had separated recently after repeated quarrels, according to relatives and friends questioned by police. Last night, police said, Higgins met his wife and Doris Birdseye, 18, her friend, on the street and forced them to enter his car. He drove rapidly to the sparsely inhabited district, police said, stopped the car and attacked his wife with a knife.

Miss Birdseye fled screaming for help, and a resident of the neighborhood responded but Higgins escaped in the darkness.

Higgins's jealousy was blamed by his wife's relatives for their stormy married life.

CHICK LANG SUSPENDED FOR ROUGH RIDING.

Bowie, Md., Nov. 23 (AP).—Alleged rough riding for which Earl Sande, king of jockeys, lost his license, has caused the suspension of Chick Lang, who rode against Sande when the latter was undone at Pimlico.

On the ground with Lang are Raymond Workman, who rides for Harry Payne Whitney, and H. Fisher. Workman and Fisher were charged with rough riding in the fourth race yesterday and Lang offended in the sixth.

The Maryland season ends on Saturday after which the three setdowns may ride in other states.

CHICAGO LAWYER NAMED AMBASSADOR TO CUBA.

Washington, Nov. 23 (AP).—Noble Brandon Judah, a Chicago lawyer, was appointed by President Coolidge today to be ambassador to Cuba.

The appointment fills the vacancy at Havana created by the resignation last spring of Major General Enoch Crowder. Judah's selection automatically gives him a place on the American delegation which will represent this country at the Pan-American Congress to be held in Havana next January and which Mr. Coolidge is expected to attend.

Sounding Ocean Depths

If a leaky vessel is heavy enough to sink and is not broken up by explosion or the buffeting of the waves, it will sink to the ocean bottom. Soundings of the ocean bottom are made by dropping a sinker, which is a 60-pound iron shot, on the end of a wire or rope. An indicator attached to the reel on the deck of the ship shows just how many fathoms of wire have run out.

Origin of Fleur de Lis

The use of the fleur de lis as a symbol of royalty cannot be traced further back than the Twelfth century, and it is probably not of French origin. It is said to occur in headdresses of Egyptian sphinxes, and the symbol was in olden times an ornament of Greek, Roman, Spanish and English kings.

Temper

"Moses," says a learned preacher, had one great fault and it kept him out of the promised land. He never learned to control his temper." And Moses is a good "bad example." The lack of self-control keeps otherwise good men and women forever out of the land of promise. Without self-control all other good qualities are built on the sand.

The presentation was made by the newly elected county president, Mrs. Katherine T. Sullivan, who spoke words of congratulation and appreciation and expressed the well wishes of those present. Refreshments were served and a general social time was had.

Markle-Addis.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Addis of Kerhonkson, Thursday, November 17, when their daughter, Blanche, became the bride of Ben Markle of Mombaccus. At 1 o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March played by Mrs. George Bilyou and were united in marriage by the Rev. Warren Churchill of White Plains, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Cooley, pastor of the Kerhonkson M. E. Church. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Van Dyke Churchill. The ceremony was performed under an arch of evergreens and roses. The bride looked charming in a gown of pale blue georgette over pink silk with a pair of silver slippers that harmonized with her costume. She carried a shower bouquet of carnations and roses. Her traveling costume was of tan flat crepe embroidered with gold and metallic thread with fur as trimming on the coat. She wore a hat to match. The bridesmaid wore a dress of pink georgette and velvet and carried white carnations. The two flower girls were Thelma Churchill and Doris Bilyou who were dressed in pale green silk. They carried a gilt basket of white and pink roses. After the ceremony a luncheon was served in the beautifully decorated dining room by Mrs. Charles Osborne, Mrs. Harry Burger and Mrs. Preston Brundage. The happy couple then left for a honeymoon after which they will reside in Mombaccus where a furnished home awaits them. A host of friends wish Mr. and Mrs. Markle a long and happy married life. "The Rector" Makes a Hit

Large Audience at Hurley Manifests Interest in County Dramatic Contest—Accord to Stage Play Tonight.

As is the custom at Hurley when the Farm and Home Bureau have meetings of any kind, just everybody that could be packed into the hall was there yesterday evening to enjoy the program the Hurley unit of the Farm and Home Bureau had planned. Of course, the play was the drawing card, since everybody is interested in the county contest. "The Rector" proved to be most amusing. Many comic situations arose between the new unmarried minister and the ladies of the congregation. Janie, the maid, the part so well taken by Mrs. Ray Smith, added much to the interest of the play. That the interest in the county contest is growing was manifested by the number present from other communities of the county at the Hurley meeting.

Accord Plays Tonight.

This evening it is Accord's turn to swing into the limelight. A big meeting is planned to be held in the I. O. O. F. Hall. The Accord dramatists appear in "Joint Owners In Spain", a comic one act play depicting the troubles of two old ladies, inmates of an old ladies' home. For thirty whole minutes the onlookers will probably be quite uncomfortable in the region of their anatomy where laughs originate, but it is expected that all will live through the ordeal and be ready to sing when it is all over and "Hal" Eppes begins to wield the baton. Miss Mary Eva Duthie, dramatic specialist of Cornell, will be present to score the play and will give an interesting discussion regarding home talent plays. Refreshments will be served.

The following is the cast of "Joint Owners in Spain":

Mrs. Mitchell.....Mrs. Percy Gazley
Mrs. Fullerton.....Miss Edna Baker
Miss Dyer.....Mrs. John Osterhoudt
Mrs. Blair.....Mrs. Wm. Osterhoudt

Calls Off Chain Letter Petition

New York, Nov. 23 (AP)—Pliny M. Tucker, Boston banker who started the chain letter petition to draft President Coolidge into the presidency in 1928, today issued a statement requesting that all work on his plan cease immediately.

Mr. Tucker denied printed reports that Frank W. Stearns, the President's close friend, had endorsed his chain letter plan.

"Mr. Stearns had nothing to do with the idea," he said. "I went to see him before launching the plan, but made no mention of it to him. My visit was only to make certain that Mr. Coolidge's health would stand the strain of another term in the White House."

Former Senator William M. Butler, also a close associate of the President, had no knowledge of my part in the plan, Mr. Tucker added.

Mendelssohn Club Secures Tidmarsh

At a large and enthusiastic meeting of the Mendelssohn Club Monday evening at the Elks' Club, Elmer A. Tidmarsh of Albany was elected conductor for the ensuing concert year to succeed Harry P. Dodge, who was unable to accept the baton of the club on account of another contract.

This is further proof that the Mendelssohn Club of Kingston has reached a high place in glee club life. The club is to be congratulated on being able to bring to Kingston a conductor of Mr. Tidmarsh's attainments. Mr. Tidmarsh is director of music at Union College, where he regularly broadcasts organ recitals for the audience of WGY. He is director of the Union College Glee Club, the Schubert Club of Schenectady, the Troy Vocal Society, the Albany Community Chorus and other organizations. It is felt that under his leadership the Mendelssohn Club is assured of a most successful year.

On the occasion of the concert of the Hudson Valley Glee Clubs, held in Kingston last May, it will be remembered that Mr. Tidmarsh conducted the first concert group. His work at that time made a profound impression on both chorus and audience, and he will come to Kingston to find that he already has many warm friends and enthusiastic admirers here.

The Mendelssohn Club will hold a reception to Mr. Tidmarsh on Friday night, December 2, followed by the first rehearsal of the season. Through the courtesy and kindness of the Elks' Club the meeting night of the Mendelssohn Club has been changed from Tuesday to Friday night of each week.

Missionary Meeting Friday.

The Missionary Societies of St. James Church will meet with Mrs. N. Hogeboom, 149 Main street, Friday afternoon, November 25, at 2:30. Mrs. William Styles will lead the devotions. Mrs. Colden will give Chapter Three in the Home Text Book. The self-denial offering will be taken.

Appetizing Thanksgiving Display.

In the window of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Company's building on Broadway is a most appetizing display of cooked, cooking and cookable Thanksgiving dinner materials, from turkey right on down the list.

Baptist Meeting Tonight.

The prayer meeting of the First Baptist Church will be held this evening at 7:30 instead of Thursday evening.

Will Preach at Accord.

The Rev. J. B. Steketee will preach at the Accord Reformed Church on Sunday at 10:30 a. m.

Union Service At High School

The Rev. William Fornsell Kemper, rector of St. John's Church, will deliver the Thanksgiving Day sermon at the union services in the Kingston High School auditorium Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock, his subject being "The Foundations of Our Gratitude." The offering as usual will be for the Industrial Home. There will be special music appropriate to the occasion at the services. Other pastors participating in the service will be the Rev. Dr. Frank B. Seeley, the Rev. Arthur S. Cole, the Rev. J. Wilbur Tetley and the Rev. Charles B. Smith.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, Nov. 23.—A friend of the Reformed Church presented a book stand for the pulpit of the church Sunday morning, November 13. The pastor of the church, the Rev. Philip Goertz, accepted the gift in a very gracious manner.

The grocery store window of Lester Ferguson on Broadway presents a very appropriate appearance for Thanksgiving. The store will be closed all day Thursday.

Every member of the congregation of the Methodist Church will kindly give a fancy article to the annual fair and bazaar of the Ladies' Aid Society to be held Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, November 29 and 30.

The first of the four entertainments of the Redpath Entertainment Festival held in Pythian Hall, Port Ewen, Monday evening was exceptionally good. The Lovelace Entertainers gave an entertainment that held the audience spellbound. Each artist showed wonderful ability in song, music readings, and the Hawaiian music was beautiful. The whole entertainment was out of the ordinary and brought to the people of this place something worth while. The Men's Community Club should be congratulatde for bringing such uplifting talent to the people of Port Ewen.

Everyone is asked by the pastor to make a special effort to attend these services and bring friends and neighbors.

DAIRY FACTS

BIG FACTORS IN PRODUCING MILK

Because of the prevailing high prices of feeds much stress has been laid on weeding out the poor cows and keeping only those that produce at a profit. "This is sound policy, only if the cows have been properly fed and cared for, states E. A. Gaumitt, assistant dairy specialist at the New Jersey College of Agriculture.

"Two factors must be considered in milk production, namely, inherited ability of the cow to produce milk, and feed and care. The importance of proper feeding was proved recently by the Minnesota experiment station, which purchased four poor cows from a member of a cow-testing association. This man thought he had fed his cows properly. He bought large quantities of mill feeds. He fed a mixture of 00 parts of bran, 80 of middlings, 15 of ready-mixed feed and 4 of oil meal. He fed five pounds of this to each cow daily. The cows were on pasture six months. This feed cost him $49.46 a cow and the average milk production was 4,662 pounds of milk and 182 pounds of fat. His net profit was $37.90 per cow.

"After the college purchased them their feed was changed to a balanced ration and instead of feeding each cow five pounds, they were fed according to the amount of milk they produced—in other words, the more milk they gave, the more feed they were given. The cows were kept on pasture only five months instead of six, and got alfalfa hay and corn silage instead of timothy. This change boosted the average to 6,375 pounds of milk—an increase of 36.7 per cent. The butterfat increase was 77 pounds per cow. The feed cost was $61.42 instead of $49.46, but the profit per cow was $62.90 instead of $37.90. This means that by proper feeding the owner could have increased his net profit $25 per cow, which would not have been a bad investment."

Staff Cheap Insurance in Handling Dairy Bull

A few days ago a Fort Collins man was killed by his Holstein bull. He was leading the bull into the barn by means of a halter and lead strap when the accident occurred. This is only one more added to the great list of people who have been killed or seriously injured by bulls, states L. P. McCann of the animal husbandry department, Colorado Agricultural college, who adds that this accident, like many others, could have been avoided if the handler had not trusted the bull.

Every dairy bull, warns Professor McCann, should be regarded as a potential killer and handled accordingly. The great number of accidents occurring from careless handling proves this to be true. In spite of this men and women continue to risk their lives every day, thinking that their bulls are different from the others that have already taken a toll of lives.

For the man who handles one of these animals, the small amount of money required to buy a good bull staff is about the cheapest life insurance in which a man can invest.

Self-Feeding Cows Not Profitable at Illinois

Tests were recently made at the University of Illinois on eight dairy cows to determine the value of self-feeding. The practice was not economical nor were the milk yields appreciably increased.

For a short period after calving the amount of feed consumed was too small. Later it was too large, and the cows increased in weight. The animals were not injured by the practice because they were gradually accustomed to it.

The chief purpose of the test was to determine the relative palatability of different feeds. Corn proved most palatable of the low protein concentrates. Complete details may be obtained by writing for Bulletin 280 published by the Illinois experiment station, Urbana.

Buying Dairy Cows

When buying cows at a closing out sale of a man who has been in a test association, one gets a chance at cows that have records. The better cows are mostly worth the money they bring, especially if they have not had the best of care. If one buys such a cow that has the earmarks of a dairy cow and has a fair record with ordinary care, and takes her home and feeds her and makes her comfortable one may venture to say the cow will do her part.

Danger in Warm Cream

It is a common practice among farmers to keep cream too warm even in winter. Cream should never be allowed to freeze, because it is then hard to get representative samples. In order to avoid this, some producers keep their cream near a stove or in a place so warm that it is likely to sour or to absorb bad odors or both. In order to produce the highest quality cream, it is necessary to be provided the year around with a cool place, free from all contaminations.

Governor Clinton Used as a Model

Picture of Kingston Hotel Shown at Hotel Managers' Conference as Conducted and Best Paying 100 Room House in Hotel Chain.

Manager A. B. Siegrist, of the Governor Clinton Hotel, who has just returned from attending the National Hotel Exposition in New York city, said today that the exposition attracted the greatest aggregation of hotel men ever assembled in this country. Mr. Siegrist also said that the exposition itself, covering four floors in Grand Central Palace, was the most successful in the twelve years in which this function has been an annual event.

Coincident with the exhibition, which lasted four days, was the joint conferences of the managers of the United and American Hotels held at the Hotel Roosevelt. These conferences covered two days and were marked with the reading of papers by executives of the two organizations covering every phase of practical hotel operation. Each of the 51 hotels of the two companies were represented at these conferences.

General J. Leslie Kincaid, president of the American Hotels Corporation, illustrated his remarks with stereopticon views of the latest additions to the American Chain, including the new General Oglethorpe Hotel, a new all-year resort house on the Wilmington River, a few miles from Savannah, Georgia.

A picture of the Governor Clinton was also shown, this being the only hotel that has been open for a year that was thus honored. The reason was that the Governor Clinton is considered the model hotel in its class, the best conducted and best paying 100 room house in the chain. In an address by L. O. Tifrel, who supervises the hotels in this district, it was described in detail and cited as an example of what a small hotel should be, both in construction and management. It is still running an average of 70 per cent room occupancy and as late as the middle of the present month had to turn people away. A number of out of town parties have reserved rooms for Thanksgiving Day and are coming here to spend the holiday. More than 90 special reservations for Thanksgiving dinner have been received. The annual financial statement will be a surprise when it is made up at the end of December.

NO. 4 P.-T. A. WILL HOLD CLAM CHOWDER SALE

The November meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 4 was held Tuesday afternoon. The meeting opened with a very pleasing program, consisting of a reading entitled "A Church Choir" by George Kent, two Thanksgiving songs given by children from the first and second grades, a recitation "Every Day Thanksgiving Day" by Donald McCausland and a "Turkey Gobbler Song" by pupils from the third room.

It was voted to donate $5 towards sewing materials for Miss Holmes' part time sewing class. It was also voted to renew the club subscription to the "Child Welfare Magazine" and to send for a sample copy of a new magazine called "Children".

It was decided to hold a clam chowder sale on Friday, December 9, at the home of Mrs. William Conklin, next door to the school house.

Principal Van Valkenburg was authorized to arrange for the school Christmas candy.

There will be no December meeting on account of the holidays.

Social Ideals of American Legion

By Contact With Those of Other Sects and Interests and Learning Their Ideals and Viewpoints, Legionnaires Will Grow to Respect and Trust Them.

The American Legion Service Club held its usual dinner this week on Tuesday evening in the Legion building, with an attendance of nearly all the members. The speaker was the Rev. George L. Withey, pastor of Trinity M. E. Church and chaplain of Kingston Post. This was the first the Service Club had been visited by Chaplain Withey as his parochial duties make it impossible for him to attend the usual Thursday evening meetings.

Mr. Withey spoke of the social and good fellowship phase of membership in the Legion which in itself is a great accomplishment. We sometimes are asked, he said, what our program is. There may be various lines of work laid out, but without considering these, we are our own program. There are various opposing forces in the world and men differ socially, religiously, economically and in other ways. We can get together with our little cliques of associates who have similar tastes and beliefs and have a good time, but we ought also to get together with those of other sects and other interests and by contact with them learn their ideals and viewpoints and grow to respect and trust them. Here, in the Legion, we get that contact, that broadening and that experience. That is the great kick I get out of membership in the Legion and that phase of its work is the most valuable and is a program in itself.

George W. Potter, president of the Service Club, presided and acted as toastmaster. Michael Pinkus and John Erne furnished an entertainment on a banjo and harmonica which all appreciated.

GRAHAMSVILLE.

Grahamsville, Nov. 23.—Byron Hoornbeck sold a cow to Paul Weber recently. Mr. Weber has purchased Chauncey Hall's farm on Mutton Hill.

The heavy rains did considerable damage to roads here Thursday evening. There were several inches of mud and water in some of the houses and cellars, and George Dierfeter's barn was partly filled with water.

Edward Kratz called on Mahlon Donivan Saturday morning.

A large crowd attended the chicken supper at the town hall Thursday evening. The proceeds were over $140 and will go for the benefit of the Daniel Pierce Library.

Mell DuBois called on Byron Hoornbeek one day the past week.

Benjamin Hill delivered two truck loads of feed for Mahlon Donivan recently.
